ACHS teachers, board reach tentative 3-year agreement

For the last few years Antioch High School teacher contract negotiations have had a heated, long life, with meetings with members of the community brought into the foray to let electors know what the the stumbling blocks were.

Each time ACHS teachers have gained salary raises of approximately 7 percent. Administration raises in the same ballpark have followed.

This year the negotiations seemed to be traveling in the same argumentatively worn channels.

Agreements made were only on the smaller points and of course salaries loomed at the head of the bargaining list. The board was ready to meet and the teachers weren't, and so it went.

The teachers were ready to go to arbitration to get their way and the board said "never!"

Then surprise of surprises, a tentative agreement between the representatives of the board and the teachers was reached in the early morning hours, last week.

The agreement has yet to be ratified before the particulars are released.

Negotiations will receive a rest if the agreement is ratified since this time the contract is for three years.

Antioch might have senior add

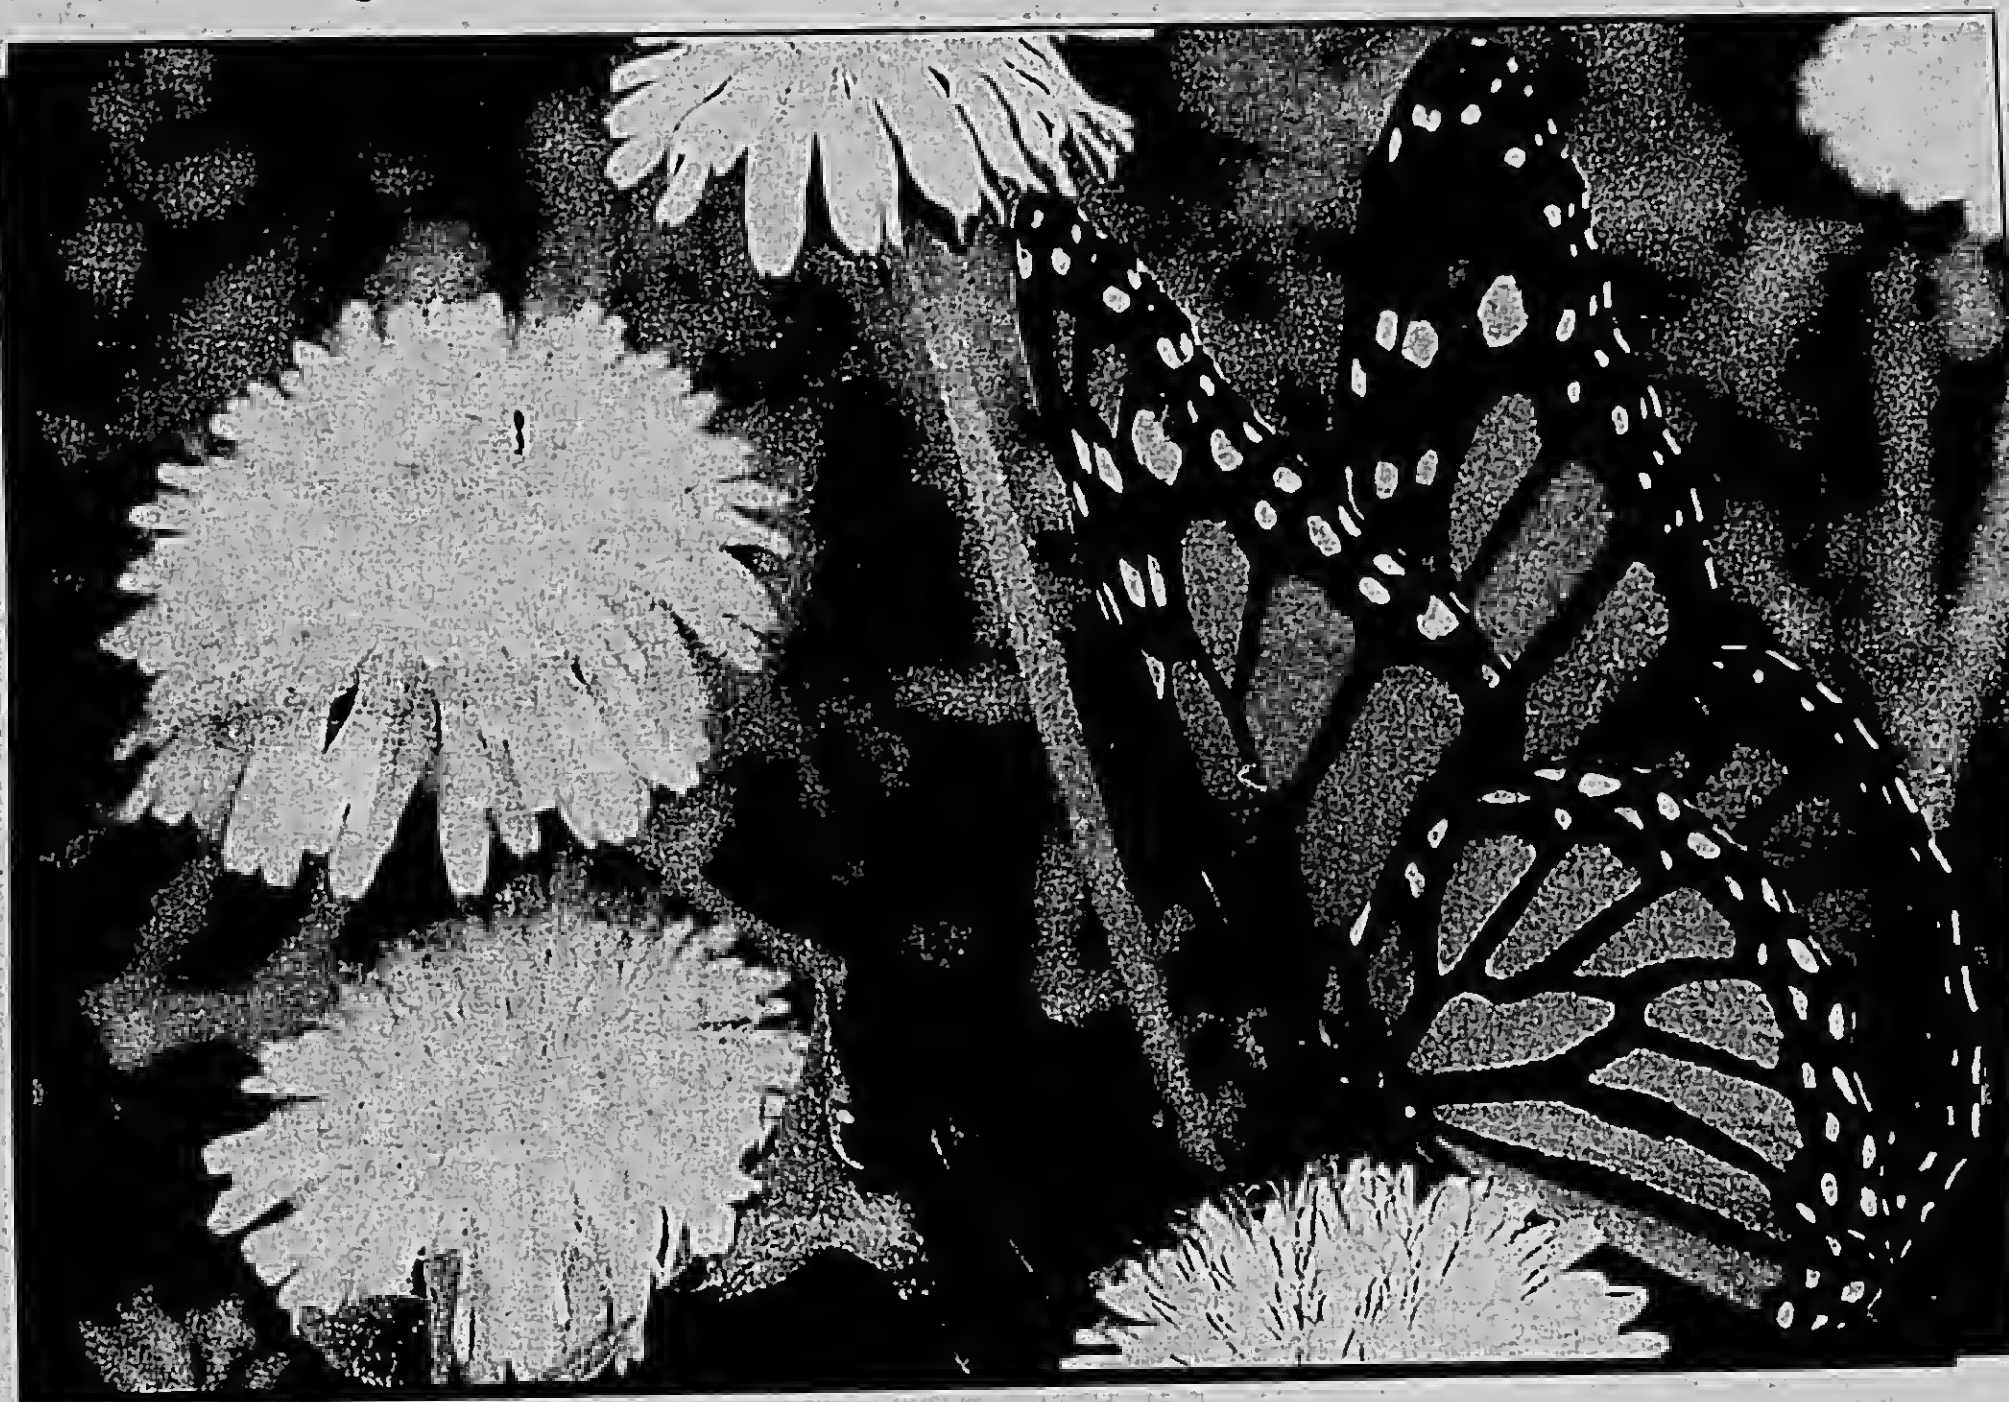

Antioch might have another senior citizen building just off of Main St., butting Park Ave., behind Barnstable's Dept. Store.

At the last regular meeting of the Antioch Village Board, held a day later than usual because of the holiday weekend, Realtors Jay Dziki and Pres Reckers approached the board in the name of the Antioch Main St. East Corp. concerning the feasibility of building a senior building on the six acres owned by the corporation.

According to Dziki, this will be a non-subsidized senior apartment building that will include a lot of extras such as an activity atrium.

Butterfly's secret

Calling all would-be entrepreneurs! There's fortune to be made in cosmetics for person who discovers secret of butterfly's cocoon. One of biggest mysteries of nature is how ugly crawling caterpillar can turn into colorful winged creature after short beauty nap. The Monarch butterfly, once

Santino never declared bankruptcy

Regarding the news story that appeared in the Friday, July 1, issue of the Antioch News-Reporter under the caption "Santino turns Harbor Ridge over to owners", the following will serve to correct the factual errors appearing in the story.

Thomas Santino never declared personal bankruptcy. Lakeland Newspapers apologizes for the error and any problems arising from that error.

Under the provisions of the condominium declaration creating the Harbor Ridge Condominium Assn. and the declaration creating the Harbor Ridge Homeowners Assn., both declarations made in 1978, Thomas Santino had the right to appoint officers and directors of these associations at the appropriate times set forth in the declarations.

Santino made these appointments on June 21 and June 23, respectively. The meeting mentioned in the story was an information meeting organized by one of the homeowners. Santino was not present at the meeting, and no election was authorized or held at that meeting.

Santino has never declared bankruptcy. On July 15, 1982, Harbor Ridge Limited Partnership I and Harbor Ridge Limited Partnership II, owners of the development land in the Harbor Ridge complex, sought protection from creditors and reorganization under Chapter 11 of the U.S. Bankruptcy Code.

In September of 1985, Harbor Ridge Development Co. sought such protection and reorganization. The major creditor in all of these proceedings is the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corp. (FSLIC) as receiver for Antioch Savings and Loan Assn.

These cases are still pending, but the court on May 12 approved an agreement between FSLIC as receiver for Antioch Savings and the Harbor Ridge Partnerships (I and II); the development corporation, Santino and Harbor Ridge Country Club, Inc., whereby the partnerships, the country club and Santino would convey their title interests in the Harbor Ridge real estate and in the operating assets of the country club to certain FSLIC-designated entities, including a new operating entity called Antioch Golf Course, Inc., in return for cancellation of the Antioch Savings indebtedness plus a cash payment by FSLIC. This agreement has been concluded, and it is anticipated that all Chapter 11 proceedings will be dismissed shortly.

Santino continues to construct and market single-family homes in the Harbor Ridge complex on land which was not included in any of the above transactions.

Water fights saved

FOX LAKE—Roll out the barrel, the water fights have been saved. Fox Lake Fire Dept. officials have devised a way to hold their traditional water fights during the annual Fireman's Festival, July 24, without depleting the village's dwindling water supply. They will pump water directly from Squaw Creek, right across the street from the site of the festival. The used water will drain into the pond adjacent to the fire station. Fire Chief Stuart Hoehne had previously voiced his hesitation to hold the water fights during a time of voluntary sprinkling restrictions.

Land battle ahead

GRAYSLAKE —Grayslake and its neighbor Third Lake are possibly heading for a battle over 16 acres of land off Washington St. Florence McKay has petitioned Grayslake for zoning for the property as R-6. Third Lake is objecting to the high density property next to Mariner's Cove subdivision and is threatening a lawsuit if Grayslake annexes the land. The Grayslake Zoning Board of Appeals was expected to meet on the matter July 14.

Police increase patrol

LONG GROVE—Since police began patrolling ponds, duck mutilations have ceased. Police have also patrolled Schaefer and Checker Roads to reduce mail-box smashing incidents.

Water theft patrol

LINDENHURST—Police will begin nighttime and weekend patrols in search of residents ignoring odd-even water restrictions. Village officials say water use continues to climb on weekends despite the partial ban imposed in mid-June. Fines range from $25 to $500.

Private eye sues

ANTIOCH — Well known private investigator Ernie Rizzo has filed suit in Lake County Court charging Sally Wojtkiewicz, Antioch, with several counts of slander in connection with his building of a structure and filling of property on Circle Dr. in Antioch. She is accused of also making false personal statements in front of witnesses and causing him to be brought, allegedly unjustly, in front of the Lake County Zoning and Building committees. Wojtkiewicz is being sued for $15,000 in real damages and $100,000 in punitive damages.

Charge for garbage

ISLAND LAKE—The village board was expected to meet this week to consider whether to begin charging residents for garbage pickup or if the village should continue paying for the service provided by Weidner Garbage Disposal Co. of Wauconda. This service is currently underwritten by a separate tax with the balance coming from the village's general fund.

Water woes

GURNEE — Gurnee village officials announced a special meeting will be held on Aug. 9 at 8 p.m. at Spaulding School North to discuss the possibility of a special assessment for the area in the eastern portion of Gurnee. Residents living on six streets have petitioned Gurnee for village water serviced. For the second straight board meeting, about 20 residents attended seeking answers to when they might get the water.

Reception for sheriff

Lake County Sheriff Clinton Grinnell and his wife, Marian, right, greeted hundreds of well-wishers at a reception July 6 at the Country Squire in Grayslake. Among those he welcomed were attorney and Mrs. Larry Dunlap of Libertyville. Master of ceremonies for the gathering of county dignitaries was Bob Collins of WGN radio fame. Endorsed as the Republican Party candidate, this was Grinnell's first fund raise in advance of having his name appear on the ballot in the November election.

Lake Linden not dirty

LINDENHURST—Formation of a citizens committee to discuss pollution of Lake Linden and ways to correct it began this week with published reports the lake has a rating of 90 on a scale of 0 to 100. The Illinois Environmental Protection Agency rates the lake among the ecologically worst in Lake County along with Nippersink, Pistakee and Fox lakes in Fox Lake and Grass Lake in Antioch. Rating a 50 or among the best is Cedar Lake in Antioch because it drains a relatively small area not subject to contamination by chemicals from road salts, lawn fertilizers and other damaging elements.

ZIP code expands

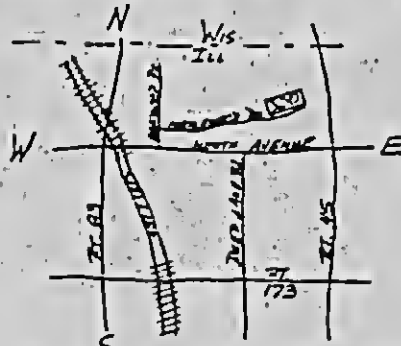

VERNON HILLS—Wheeling Post Office investigates including Corporate Groves in its route. But before implementing the switch, businesses and post office are meeting to discuss pros and cons.

Beach and union agree

ROUND LAKE BEACH—The village and the union representing village employees have come to an agreement in their months-old negotiations, of a 4 percent pay increase, a PPO-II medical insurance plan with no employee contributions, and dental insurance on a 50-50 basis.

CANCER NEWS: A VACCINE TO TREAT CANCER

Vaccinations are a common childhood rite. Illnesses and diseases which generations ago claimed millions of victims are unheard of today, due mostly to effective vaccination programs.

The preventive ability of vaccines is well documented. But now a vaccine is being used to treat, rather than prevent a disease. The disease is cancer and the technique is called tumor vaccine.

The tumor vaccine works with the body's immune system to eliminate microscopic remains of tumors which other cancer treatments may leave behind. Many cancer specialists believe that no cancer treatment is 100 percent effective without help from the patient's immune system.

For some forms of cancer, especially colon cancer, the vaccine can decrease the likelihood of recurrence by as much as 50 percent. For patients with bowel cancer (Duke's B and C), tumor vaccines can double the survival rate, changing the balance of the battle to favor the patient, rather than the cancer.

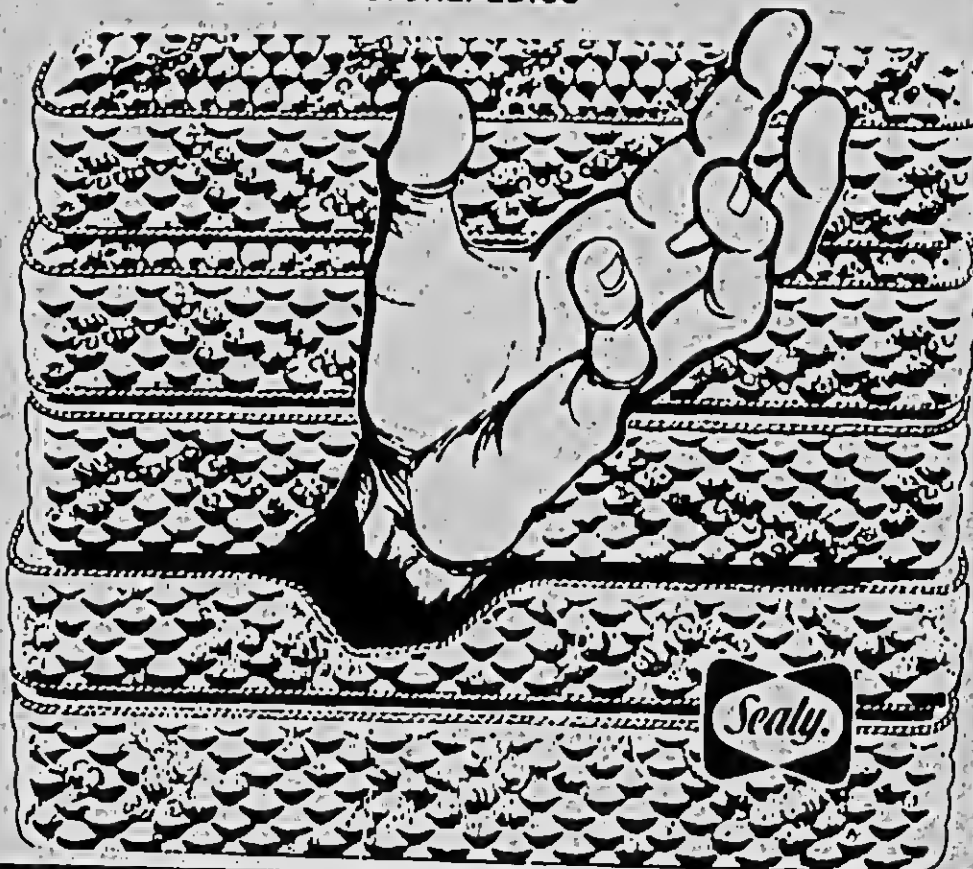

The tumor vaccine program, under the direction of Dr. R. Michael Williams, Dr. Robert Levin and Dr. Ray Crispen, one of the world's leading experts on this technique, is available for many forms of cancer.

For more information about the cancer treatment program at American International Hospital, please call 1-800-FOR-HELP.

Drought sparks fires

Common sight throughout Lake County is firefighters battling grass and brush fires. The worsening drought has resulted in a tinder-dry countryside that ignites at the flip of a match, discarded cigarette or spark. It was one of these causes that resulted in a call for Grayslake firemen to battle this blaze at Rtes. 45 and 120 near the Country Squire restaurant earlier this week. (Photo by Rick Conception)

Dist. 50 tries tax hike

GAGES LAKE --Woodland Dist. 50 Board of Education has approved going for a referendum on the November ballot. The board has not set a specific amount but has set up an executive committee to work on the referendum effort. The district's Citizens Advisory Council has recommended a referendum to stem the tide of deficit spending.

Walgreen's will move

LAKE ZURICH--Walgreen's will lease 13,000 square feet of space in the proposed Courtyards of Lake Zurich shopping complex at Rte. 12 and Cuba Rd. The village board is considering a Class B liquor store license for the store. The village's fourth shopping plaza is expected to break ground in the fall and be available for spring occupancy. No other major tenants have been signed.

Library eyes bids

NORTH CHICAGO --North Chicago Public Library officials are hoping for an August groundbreaking date for a new city library. At a special meeting, the board received bids from Poulos Brothers Construction. However, the project may have to be rebid because the bids were over what was budgeted. The library received a state grant to help pay for the costs of a new library.

Fund park projects

ZION--More than $450,000 will be spent on improvements at Illinois Beach State Park, says state Sen. Adeline J. Geo-Karis (R-Zion) of the 31st Dist. Funded for the fiscal year ending next June are $250,000 for shoreline stabilization and $200,000 for renovation of the lodge basement floor and drainage system.

Protest street closing.

LAKE VILLA--Residents in the neighborhood around Pleviak School say they do not want the village to close part of Villa Ave. for extension of the school playground because this will inconvenience both them and other motorists using the mostly residential street. Rather than close the street for a playground, they suggest the school move a teacher parking lot from the school playground to a lot where buses are stored and make them walk instead of the children. A boisterous public hearing is expected when the village and school boards meet on Wednesday, July 20, to discuss the street closing.

Picnic nears

GRAYSLAKE ---the annual Grayslake Community Picnic for residents of Grayslake will be held Sunday, July 17 at Jones Island Park located at Alleghany Rd. and Harvey St. A day long program with a D.J. will feature canoe races, a kiddie carnival, horseshoe tournament, a dunk tank and more. The event, sponsored by Grayslake Community Park Dist., begins at noon. For further details, call the park district at (312) 223-4404.

Teachers, board agree

ANTIOCH -- The usual long wrangle involved annually in the Antioch High School teacher-school board negotiations was cut short this year when representatives from both came to an early agreement last week. The teachers have yet to ratify the agreement. This is the first time that a three year contract has been negotiated.

District considering fee

ROUND LAKE AREA--A $1 per month increase will soon be on Round Lake Area resident's water bills, to cease in 1990, if a resolution for a compliance fee is accepted by members of the Northwest Sanitary Dist. Round Lake Beach Mayor Carl Schrimpf said that this will generate about $10 million.

and will allow the Fox Lake sewage treatment plant, which treats Round Lake Area sewage, to come up to standards after being cited by the Ill. Environmental Protection Agency for non-compliance.

Grant money found

FOX LAKE--Almost $3 million in grants and low interest loans has been found to help with expansion of Fox Lake's water treatment plant. The Village Board of Trustees heard this information at their July 11 work session from Donald F. Roecker of Donohue and Associates, an engineering and architectural firm employed by the village. The largest chunk of money is $2.5 million from the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency. The first phase of the expansion will cost an estimated $6 million.

Victory Over

Alcohol and Drugs.

It is a problem that all parents would like to keep from their doorstep. And yet the sad reality shows alcohol and drug abuse now affecting 15% of our 12 to 18 year olds.

The disease of addiction can destroy a young person's health, home-life, and emotional well-being.

And that's why Victory Hospital has established a new Adolescent Chemical Dependency Unit.

Victory's medically supervised program helps the adolescent in an home-like environment, while stressing family involvement. Highly trained physicians, addiction counselors and nurses manage the rehabilitation process, guiding the teen on the road to recovery.

If you or a loved one needs assistance or information concerning adolescent alcohol or drug abuse, call the Victory Adolescent Chemical Dependency team at 360-HELP, anytime. All information is kept completely confidential.

All-star day comes to Lindenfest fete

Lindenfest, the five-day Lindenhurst fun-in-the sun event, will conclude with all-star day on Sunday, Aug. 21. This is a day full of events, competition and entertainment for everyone.

Amateur events for individuals and teams of all ages and level of play include volleyball and horseshoe tournaments and an obstacle course.

The volleyball tourney will have Class A and B co-ed teams. Class A is for competition and Class B is for fun with entry fees of $20 and $10, respectively. To enter a team call Martin Hanna at (312) 356-9451.

The horseshoe tournament will also have A and B classes with entry fees of $5 and $2, respectively. Trophies and cash prizes will be awarded champions in both volleyball and horseshoes.

An obstacle course for all ages will be run for time through tires and over small objects.

There also will be a nail-pounding contest throughout the day with an entry fee of 25 cents for a husband and wife team. The winner will receive tickets for a dinner show for two at Marriott Lincolnshire.

Special entertainment will be a 4 p.m. appearance of the Jesse White tumbling troupe from Chicago. The group of expert aerobats is sponsored by state Rep. Jesse White (D-Chicago) and is being brought to Lindenfest by state Rep. Robert Churchill (R-Lake Villa), who serves in the Legislature with White. This group will appear on stage in the village hall parking lot.

Throughout the day there will be a carieturist on the grounds.

The public is invited to attend. There also will be games, booths, food and refreshments. Lindenfest this year has been expanded to five days.

Interview 3 for board

Just when it looked like Lake Villa School Dist. 41 might have to appeal to the regional superintendent of schools for help in filling a board vacancy, three applications were received.

Interviews were held with the Lake Villa and Lindenhurst applicants July 13. It was expected the board may fill the vacancy at its Wednesday, July 20, meeting.

The new board member will replace Barbara Ewert, who resigned after 8.5 years as a board member. An occasional substitute teacher in the system, she will accept a full-time position for the coming year, making it impossible for her to continue as a board member.

The new board member will serve until the next regularly-scheduled school board election in November 1989. Until July 11, the deadline for filing letters of interest in the post, it appeared no applications would be received. Prior to this only a telephone inquiry was received.

The board was ready to appeal to Regional Supt. of Schools Sybil Yastrow. She would have been asked to extend the deadline further or make a special appointment. Yastrow appointed someone to fill a vacancy in the Grayslake High School Dist. several years ago when there was a similar lack of candidate interest.

School officials said vacations, failure to see printed notices of the vacancy and general lack of interest contributed to what they believed to be the lethargy.

AARP wins beautiful parade prize

The Antioch Area Chapter 387 of the American Assn. of Retired People (AARP) with members in southeastern Wisconsin as well as Illinois, took part in the Antioch Parks & Recreation July 4 parade saluting Antioch's Fire Department.

Representing (AARP) were Charles and Verna Youlden carrying the AARP Banner, Art Aerne and Robert Allgire escorts to the "Can-Can Girls" namely Lori Aerne, Dolly Spiering, Betty Henschel, Agnes Allgire, Irene Lingo and Clar Haling.

These seniors all perform in the All Star Singing Band and Dancers and range from 62 to 89 years of age. They are proud to have received the award and plaque for being "Most Beautiful in Parade."

The All Stars met on Saturday, July 9 at the Antioch Senior Center to form their fall programs.

The first regular business meeting of Chapter 387 of the fall season will be on Tuesday, Sept. 13 presided over by President Art Aerne.

Antioch ahead of others on sewer reconstruction

by GLORIA DAVIS

The Village of Antioch has made another payment to Indiana Const. of $72,483 for the work being done in bringing the Antioch Sewer Treatment Plant up to Ill. Environmental Protection Agency standards.

The Village of Antioch is ahead of most of the surrounding municipalities that have also been mandated by the IEPA to update their sewer systems.

The deadline for the update was set at July 1 but the village has requested that the date be set ahead, with target date for completion now set at sometime in September.

According to Village Clerk Marilyn Sterbenz, the village is still waiting to hear on its request for either a grant or low interest rate bonds to help pay for the $2 million sewer plant construction.

The village board has also instructed Village Atty. Ken Clark to look into the legalities involved in forming a park district in Antioch.

In other business, the board also approved sending Marilyn Shincflug to a seminar on sanitary landfills in California. Shineflug was responsible for doing a lot of volunteer research work for the village that contributed to the village winning a lawsuit against Waste Management, Inc. a few years ago.

Special Mass at St. Peters

The Ministry of Care of St. Peter Church in Antioch is sponsoring a special monthly Mass on Sunday, July 17, at 11 a.m. at St. Peter Social Center.

This Mass is for all people in the area who are either shut-ins, handicapped, or anyone who has difficulty with the stairs at St. Peter Church.

Use the ground-level entrance off the north parking lot. For further information or transportation, contact Joc or Doris Veith at (312)395-6916.

Private detective charges woman with slander

Ernie Rizzo, an area private detective, filed a lawsuit in the Lake County Courts last week, charging Sally Wojtkiewicz, Antioch, with malicious harassment and making false defamatory and slanderous statements about himself in front of witnesses.

He is asking for $15,000 in actual damages and $100,000 in punitive damages. Rizzo's complaint charges Wojtkiewicz with saying that he is running an illegal detective agency (a crime against the state) and using several different names and addresses in the Antioch area for illegal activities.

She is also charged with accusing Rizzo publicly of illegal activities involved in building a structure at 39765 Circle, Antioch, and filling of property, saying that these activities are a threat to safety and could cause injury to the general public.

Rizzo claims that there is no basis whatever for any of the defamatory statements allegedly made by Wojtkiewicz.

Rizzo claims that because of her statements, he was brought into Lake County Court on charges of building and zoning violations. Representatives of these departments, according to Rizzo's complaint, testified that they saw no violations and a mystery complainant had directed them to investigate for alleged violations.

Rizzo further charges that her "slanderous statements" have caused him to be a victim of several burglaries, thefts, acts of vandalism, physical assaults and scorned by the community at large.

Rizzo's complaint states that he has been a police officer, private and special investigator in all 50 states and other countries. He claims that "hundreds of court decisions have been made because of his character and creditability."

Antioch Twp. Hwy. Dept. blacktopping of 19 roads

by GLORIA DAVIS

Antioch Twp., with its 80 miles of roads, is not only the largest township in Lake County, but it is also one of the biggest in the entire State of Illinois.

Taking care of this long-line of roads is the Antioch Twp. Hwy. Dept., headed by Antioch Twp. Hwy. Commissioner Mark Ring and his four employees.

According to Ring, the most immediate thing on the highway agenda is the blacktopping of 19 township roads that have never been blacktopped before.

In some cases, this will mean blacktopping the roads of an entire subdivision. Peter Baker and Sons, Lake Bluff, got the bid for the blacktopping work at a total price of $55,003.

Ring expects the blacktopping to start almost immediately and be completed within four days.

The highway department has prepared the roads and Baker is already sweeping and prime-oiling them.

The lack of rain does have its good points. The highway department has completed its first, and maybe only mowing of the roadsides (if the weather stays dry) to make it easier for motorists to see. Usually it takes two men on two mowers and three cuttings per season.

"This will give us more time to prepare the roads for next year's blacktopping, for trimming trees and doing needed drainage work which is a high priority on our work list."

Cardinals 1988 champ of Antioch Little League

by CAROLYN HAMMOND
(312) 39-6081

Summer vacation is half over and our southern California-style weather is still holding. Oh, if we could just have some of their winter weather instead! Do you feel a let-down after the holiday? In spite of the there could only be one winner. So, when the three-game Little League championship tournament was over, the Cardinals, managed by Mike Wells, emerged as the 1988 Little League Champions. Congratulations to you all!

What follows naturally when baseball is over?

Registration fee is $40 and covers all practice and game equipment, use of all other equipment, league fees and official costs. Participants must furnish proof of age—birth certificate, etc.—to be kept in league files. Practice will begin at noon, Aug. 6, at the Antioch High School practice field.

Viking girls' cheerleading and color guard registration for girls grades five to eight will also be held at the same time and place. Registration fee is $15. Sign up early, because openings are limited!

The Antioch Twp. Library has a full week of activities planned to keep your children cool and occupied. The week will start on Monday, July 18, with a puppet show at 2 p.m. Tuesday, July 19, is their regularly scheduled story hour and activity at 2 p.m. Wednesday, July 20, is a movie at 2 p.m., and special event for the week is a Karate demonstration at 7 p.m. at Song's Martial Arts Inst. on Main St. Advanced registration is required for all participants.

Bring on the rain!

News & Notes

heat and drought, it has been a good summer for special events; even the brief shower couldn't wash out the Antioch Chamber of Commerce's Arts and Crafts Fair, often hindered in the past with wet weather. So, now it's business as usual for a quiet week in Antioch trying to keep cool under trying circumstances.

There was plenty of trying on both sides, but Football, of course. And the Antioch Viking Youth Football organization has all the bases covered, so to speak.

The Vikings will begin a three-weekend registration for boys grades five to eight (under age 15, as of Sept. 1) at the Antioch Scout House, 741 Main St.

Hours are 6 to 9 p.m. Friday, July 22, and 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday, July 23.

Firemen's dance gets 75th fete off to good start

Well, it's over—the station house is back in order, everyone has caught up on their sleep and the 75th Anniversary Dance of the Antioch Firefighters Assn. was a success.

It was a success because of the tremendous support received from the entire community of Antioch. The mail-in and door-to-door ticket sales, the merchant contributions and the efforts of so many volunteers helped to assure that the 75th Anniversary Dance was the best ever.

A special thanks from the fire department goes to the many merchants who provided the over 70 door prizes; prizes so that the ticket buyers had a greater chance to win.

The top winners of this year's cash prizes were: Larry Bunker, $300; Gene Hermano, $200; and Phil Vos, $100.

The other winners are:

Spring Grove's Giers wins Wilmot raceway

Mid-Season Championship racing was hot and heavy at Toft Auto Racing's Wilmot Speedway in Wilmot, Wis. as two new feature winners and one repeat winner picked up victories in the Avon Automotive of Lake Villa, Night main events.

Union Grove's Joe Symoens became the tenth different feature winner in the J&L Oil Interstates Racing Assn. winged sprints.

Bobby Giers of Spring Grove, took top honors in the 15-lap spectator stock main as he became the ninth different winner in that division.

Dennis Spitz jumped out in front in the sprint main and held the lead until a wing to wing battle with Symoens developed at the midway point of the 25-lapper. Symoens went in front on lap 14 and held top spot when the race's only caution came out on lap 17 when last chance qualifier winner Mike Frost spun. On the restart, pointleader Gib Wiser, who came through the last chance race and started toward the rear of the field, pressured Symoens but Symoens was able to pull away in his Art's Town Tap/LAM Racing Engines sprinter to the win. Wiser, Spitz, Carmen Manzardo and Bill Warren rounded out the top five. "This is great," said a jubilant Symoens. "That makes back to back July 4 weekend wins (he also won in 1987)."

Donny Ketcham took the lead on the first lap of the 20-lap late model main with Maywald working in front on lap seven. Maywald pulled away in the Jay's Mac Tools/Woodstock Auto Parts Firebird and scored the win. Skip Martin, Ketcham, last chance race winner Graig Kreuser who came from the back of the pack, and Tom Schweiss completed the top five. "The crew decided to change tires before the feature and I don't know what we put on, but it sure worked," said Maywald.

Brian Crapser took the lead at the drop of the green and appeared headed for his first feature win until his left-front wheel broke on lap 9 sending him to the infield in turn four. Giers took over the lead in a battle with Neal Ostergaard and Scott Kuxhouse. Giers was able to keep his Fox Lake NAPA Auto Supply Chevelle in front at the finish with Kuxhouse, Ostergaard, John Janssen and Gerry Bennecke rounding out the top five.

Still lots coming up in Antioch

The Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry hit the halfway mark with the successful Antioch Arts and Crafts Fair held at William Park on Sunday.

There were over 70 artistic exhibitors and the crowds were not bothered by the minute rainfall early in the afternoon.

There was a booth with large wooden plaques carved by a chain saw; many booths with paintings; hand painted, silk screened and embroidered sweatshirts and t-shirts, ceramics, country sewing art; jewelry, etc.

The annual biggest sale of the year in the village will be held when Maxwell St. Days, held on the downtown street in front of the stores, on Thursday, July 28, Friday, July 29, Saturday, July 30 and Sunday, July 31.

Stores will be selling seasonable items, some at 50 percent off, while the season is far from over.

The next big event in town is slated to be the Lions Club Chicken Barbeque and Rescue Squad Auction which will be held at Williams Park, all day, on Sunday, Aug 7. Members of the Lions Club will be cooking chicken on giant grills all day long. There will be other refreshments available and games for the kids.

An auction of items ranging from the new to the antique will be held in the Lions' Pavilion, by the Antioch Rescue Squad. This is one of the biggest fundraisers of the year for both organizations.

And summer fun won't be over on Thursday, Aug. 26, when the Antioch Jaycees will be sponsoring a circus on the grounds of the W. C. Petty Grade School off of Tiffany Rd.

Contact Jaycee members for tickets.

Coming up will be the annual Rotary Club's Pork Chop Dinner and Auction, usually held in September.

Top gospel voice singer

Robbie Hiner, featured soloist of the Old Time Gospel Hour, will appear in concert at the Chain of Lakes Community Bible Church on Sunday, July 17, at 6 p.m. It will be held in the church's temporary facility at the Antioch Veterans of Foreign Wars on North Ave., just east of Rte. 83. This is the third in a series of special summer programs called 10 Outstanding Sunday Nights.

Hiner is an accomplished singer and composer with 22 albums and several awards to his credit. His 1983 album, "I'll Praise Your Name Lord," won the Angel Award for best male vocal album. He is featured regularly on radio programs produced by Moody Bible Institute, television's Old Time Gospel Hour and has appeared with evangelist Billy Graham. On the Old Time Gospel Hour he has appeared with Jerry Falwell. He also performed for President Ronald Reagan at a large Baptist convention in 1984.

Hiner gives an average of 250 concerts each year in area churches. "God has shown me that the local church ministry is where I should be," he said. "I've decided that if I'm going to sing, I'm going to see lives changed through the local church."

For more information about this program or others in the series, contact the Rev. Don Sweeting, church pastor, at (312) 356-2090.

TOENAIL TROUBLES

Ingrown toenails are among the most common foot problems that bring people to the podiatrist's office. In many cases, the condition could be avoided by proper toenail trimming. It's worth taking the time to do it right. Aside from causing pain, ingrown nails can lead to infection.

Most often it's a big toe that is involved. Foot structure, heredity, injury and fungus infections can make toes more vulnerable to ingrown nails.

Trimming the nails too short, or too deep in the corners, invites them to grow into the toe. Nails should be trimmed straight across, even with the end of the toe. If your nails are thick and difficult to cut, use an emery board to file the edge, straight across.

If, for any reason, you develop an ingrown nail the condition deserves prompt professional attention.

Serving the young, the old

A new public building under construction in Mundelein says a lot about what's happening in America today. The building is being constructed by the park district to serve senior citizens and day care needs.

In case you haven't noticed, demographers tell us that our nation is aging rapidly. We must provide for them. Senior citizen centers are one of the answers. This newspaper recently did its own investigation into local day care needs. With the number of working mothers increasing all the time, the pressure on society continues to mount for suitable facilities for preschool youngsters. In our area, there is a great need for professional day care facilities.

We're not certain whether the kids are going to be at one end of the new parking building and senior citizens at the other, but the idea of linking two services under one roof is intriguing. And we're not suggesting that seniors be pressed into babysitting. Medical, activities and meal service, for example, are duplicated services that could be handled by one set of professionals working under one roof.

Perhaps the new Mundelein facility is the wave of the future.

Dissident stance for Jesse

Action by the Democratic Platform Committee controlled by Gov. Michael Dukakis put down major planks in the platform of the Rev. Jesse Jackson, while at the same time effectively steering him clear of the vice-presidential nomination.

In accomplishing those two steps, the platform committee might have gone quite a ways toward setting the Massachusetts governor's campaign agenda. Democratic leaders wanted no part of such Jackson ideas as a massive tax increase for high income persons and business, a big defense spending freeze, doubling federal school spending, a policy of rejecting first use of nuclear weapons and Palestinian self-determination.

Dukakis chose as his running mate Lloyd Bentsen, three-term U.S. senator from Texas. Thus, the Democrats will offer voters a northern liberal-southern senator ticket similar to their successful 1960 team of John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson. Besides being controversial, Jackson lacked the "balance" national statemakers seek.

About the only Jackson policy accepted by the platform makers was his labeling of South Africa as a "terrorist state". If the strategy was to show that Dukakis and Jackson are oceans apart on just about every conceivable major issue, the committee was imminently successful.

Jackson still is a force in American politics; but with the nomination convention about to begin, the Democratic leadership, for better or worse, has cast him in the role of dissident. Obviously, party leaders are a lot more comfortable with Jesse in this stance. Could be the nation is, too.

Jackson reacted with unexpected grace, adopting a team player attitude rather than ranting and raving. A plus for Bentsen is the fact that he defeated Vice President George Bush in a 1970 Texas senate battle.

JESSE JACKSON

Quasi-public universities

A trend is in sway that, carried to its end, could result in public universities becoming something else, perhaps quasi-public institutions. The trend is increasing tuition costs to cover the lapse, or gap, between public support.

University of Illinois students undoubtedly will have to pay about $400 more tuition in the coming academic year because the General Assembly failed to increase support for higher education. This would be on top of a $300 a year increase taking effect Jan. 1, for a whopping 31 percent in about eight months.

Total cost for an average undergraduate at the Champaign-Urbana campus would be in excess of $6,200, including $2,921 in tuition and fees—meaning that U of I would be the most expensive public university in the Big 10. The tuition would cover an estimated $10 million of a budget shortfall estimated at $15 to $20 million.

With tuition increases escalating, the gap between what it costs to attend a "public" school and a private institution of higher learning is shrinking at a rather alarming rate. What does this trend portend? Many things, perhaps; but in the matter of costs there won't be the competitive pressure between state and private colleges and universities, with the end result being—as we mentioned—a sort of quasi-public mode for high-cost public universities.

Quality, quality! endless, vague litany

by ED KENYON

Have you noticed lately what has happened to the word "quality"? You see or hear it daily in newspaper and magazine ads and articles, and in television commercials. You know what "quality" means, don't you? Or do you? The word-twisters have taken the word "quality," shifted its position in the phrase or sentence, and forced it to work overtime and deceptively as an adjective that defies your understanding and mine. What is regrettable is that now almost everybody else is misusing it.

My dictionaries—yours, too—say that "quality" is a noun, not an adjective, and they define "quality" as a trait, a characteristic, or the condition of a thing. That's clear enough, isn't it? An adjective, on the other hand, functions as a modifier or qualifier of a noun, a task that the nouns "quality," "trait," or "characteristic" cannot perform by masquerading as adjectives. Well, anyway, not yet.

In a TV commercial seen frequently these days the spokesman praises the product of a well-known automobile manufacturer and ends with "Quality People, Quality Products." Two questions: People of what kind of quality? How good is the quality of the products? This manufacturer recently recalled about 200,000 of its quality products made by its quality people because the recurring malfunction of a part might lead to accident, injury, or death.

In his published message to the community, the principal of a Lake County high school says, "...primary reason for the existence of a school is to provide each student with a quality education." How good is the quality of this "quality education"? A? B? F?

The president of one of the largest research institutes in the USA was quoted: "High technology without the commitment of the people who control the machines will not produce quality products." More double-talk. It should have been obvious to him that the "quality" of the products produced—with or without the commitment of the people—may not be an acceptable quality, or it may not meet the standard of quality expected from high-tech, but machines always produce products of a measureable and definable "quality". Why not define it?

You probably own, or have seen, a product with a "quality" that varies from cheap, sleazy, or poor; through good, so-so, or average; up to excellent, superior, or triple-A. Wouldn't it be sensible, then, to pause occasionally to ask ourselves: How good is the "quality" that is being trumpeted in this endless parade of vague and misleading phrases such as "quality people," "quality product," "quality education," etc? Why should you, the customer or the reader, be burdened with the responsibility of assigning your degree of quality to the "quality"?

One more pitiful example from an airline's full-page ad: "Blank Airlines is making a real commitment to quality service. To the tune of almost one-and-a-half billion dollars this year." If this airline plans to spend that much money just to improve the quality of its service, can you imagine how poor and unacceptable the quality must have been?

If this adjectival use of "quality" isn't ridiculed out of print and speech soon, some over-zealous writer is sure to make our eyes glaze over with his latest variation—"Quality quality". Wanna bet?

If you have a pet language peeve, write to me in care of this paper.

Editor's note: Ed Kenyon is retired and resides in Leisure Village. His hobby is studying the meaning of words. He has served as a volunteer writing coach for the College of Lake County student newspaper, the Chronicle.

Life incomplete without sounds of passing train

by BILL SCHROEDER

Dogs bark. Cats meow. Trains blow whistles. Right?

Wrong, if you live in Vernon Hills.

There is a movement in Vernon Hills to Ban the Beep of Wisconsin Central freights rolling through Lake County's fastest growing community.

One of the local politicians claimed that 3,000 to 4,000 persons are having their solitude and their sleep interrupted by train whistles. What's the answer? There oughta be a law!

Mayor Phillip Ellis has come out flat-footed for train whistles, declaring that he is against a proposed train whistle control edict. You might say that Mayor Ellis doesn't give a hoot about the toot. Right on Mr. Mayor. We're with you.

Neither do the folks, apparently, in Mundelein, Grayslake, Lake Villa, Antioch and other points who live along the Wisconsin Central line. They either subscribe to our dogs bark, cats meow theory or they haven't noticed.

A quick survey by this column showed that residents along the Milwaukee Road in Fox Lake, Round Lake, Grayslake and Libertyville enjoy the hoonk, hoonk of passing commuter trains. In the morning, the train horns wake them up and tell them that all's well. Sort of like seeing the sun. At night, the train sounds lull them to sleep. How can anyone not like a train toot, toot or a hoonk hoonk? Poems have been written about train whistles.

But then maybe life in Vernon Hills is different. Next thing, the politicians will want to silence dogs and cats. What about the noisy frogs in the mall lagoons?

Caring for seniors when they can't cope on own

by LEO W. TANNENBAUM, M.D.

There have been many articles written about teenage children becoming parents. Little has been written about adults thrust into the unfamiliar role of parenting their own aging parents. Time was when mom stayed home, took care of the family, which frequently involved a grandparent. The latter was useful as role model, mentor and babysitter. But, now, mom goes to work, the children are farmed out, or fend for themselves.

Who takes care of the grandparent now? Grandparents once help support these parents and, now, they need support. Their ideas and opinions are out of date. In aging, they lose respect. Instead of being someone who will eventually grow up and get out on their own, like a growing child, they live longer than expected, calling increasingly on physical, emotional and financial reserves. All this occurs if, as is usually the case, the old haven't been able to put away seeds of money to take care of themselves. The fortunate ones with money don't impose too much on their offspring and may even continue to help out financially.

Psychiatrists Gary Small and Lissy Jarvik, who hold levels of professional rank at the UCLA Neuropsychiatric Institute, have written an excellent book on parent-care. It outlines the problem admirably. The authors call on psychiatrists to recognize that both adult children and aging parents are in need of help in this stressful situation. Care involves an assessment of the strengths, weaknesses and dynamics of interaction by the people involved.

Medical usings

By Leo Tannenbaum, M.D.

Since relationships differ in each family, parent-care can't be learned from a manual. If the grandparent is mentally out of touch dealing with him/her is doubly difficult. If the elderly is healthy, wealthy and with a lifestyle he/she always wanted, don't try to fix it. It's not broken.

Assuming a rational, sentient person, the grandparent should be aware of all moves. As a young employee of a convalescent home, I once had the unpleasantness of discovering an elderly gentleman seated in the lobby, valise at his side. He said he needed no help, he was waiting for his son and daughter-in-law, who had gone on an errand. They would return soon. Actually they had not told him he was to be admitted; they just left him there.

Granting that blue-prints cannot be made, here are some suggestions. Gradually advise the seniors they are safe and are welcome. Resources available to them and to the younger people doing the new parenting should be explored gently. Resources mean not only money, but physical and emotional strengths. Weaknesses, such as illness, opinions and bias (for or against offspring) are taken into account. One or more of the above may be obvious and can be touched very lightly. Some elderly people fear for their money; tread carefully.

In a cooperative sharing effort for parent-care it is advisable that the part each is willing to play should be decided beforehand. The funds available must be outlined in a forthright manner. Agreements are not written in stone, but a fair idea should be had to avoid disagreement or hard feelings later. In any organization or family group some responsible member of the family, willingly or not, usually assumes overall command. A word of caution here. Wisdom must be employed and if you take command include a majority opinion, if possible. If you don't, you'll get all the work, no particular thanks and all the blame even if only one non-participating member decides that it should be done differently.

Since money is of paramount importance here, it would be silly to deny it. If there is enough readily forthcoming, the workload of the person physically and emotionally burdened with the care of a steadily weakening senior calling for attention can be made lighter simply by hiring someone to help out. If there is not much money, perhaps, a member of the extended family can visit periodically to help. Church groups, professional home health care organizations, including some paid for by Medicare, can help out before nerves are stretched too thin. Counseling and/or psychiatric care for either the person doing the parenting or the senior may be a necessity before someone stresses out.

It is imperative that all the resources be tabulated. A nursing home is probably the last resort and is disliked by both the adult offspring and the elderly. The elderly rightly fear it as a step leading closer to death. In some communities, elder-care or day-care centers are available, making grandparents still part of the family if all younger adults work during the day.

Politically speaking . . .

by Joseph Soulak

Exhibitors at this year's Lake County Fair are already moaning. It is about the $500,000 liability insurance policy they must provide before setting up or passing out a piece of literature, balloon, yardstick or sample. Cost of such a policy is in the neighborhood of $500 for the four-day fair.

"This coverage is in addition to the fair association's umbrella coverage," explained fair Sect. Walter Krumrey. "It protects us in event of an accident in a booth or as a result of something received at that booth," he said of a balloon that might be swallowed by a child, tainted food or falling on free ruler.

Upwards of 200 indoor spaces and 100 outdoors are affected by the three-year-old insurance requirement. "We know it works a hardship on non-profit organizations, educational groups and those who are there as a public service to merely display their name," Krumrey said. "If this weren't done the fair's insurance would be much higher. Our insurance carrier recommended this change three years ago."

Yes, it has resulted in some cancellations and complaints each year. But the Lake County Fair still is the No. 1 summertime marketing outlet, so all of the available spaces are filled with insured exhibitors.

"No man's life, limb or property is safe while the Legislature is in session." That is a quote used regularly by Ed Nash while a political columnist for the News-Sun. Now a public information officer for the state Dept. of Transportation, he is the person responsible for keeping the public informed about highway projects in this part of Illinois. His "biggie" right now is the Dan Ryan Expressway, which is being rejuvenated, much to the exasperation of motorists.

"Sure, that's a quote I always used when the action moved to Springfield," Nash said of the regular trek he made to the state capitol with local politicians. "I didn't make it up, honest. It is contained in an opinion of New York Surogate Court, 1886. That's like a circuit court," he explained. "I think it's a great line." So do a lot of other people.

There is going to be a race this fall in the 60th Dist. for the post now held by Rep. William E. Peterson (R-Prairie View). Challenging him will be Robin Weiss of Buffalo Grove on Democratic side of the ballot.

Weiss has let slip he is not really a Democrat, but a Republican. He got on the ballot by writing in his own name on the ballot during the March primary. The state election board said one signature instead of the usual 10 was sufficient to make him a candidate.

The Democrats are wondering how to handle this race and how much money to invest in the candidate.

Another Democrat made news in another way, actually, the hard way. It is Gene Friedman, who is running for the job of U.S. Rep. John Porter (R-Winnetka) in the 12th Dist. Friedman's Winnetka campaign office was mysteriously vandalized while he was in Washington, D.C., holding a fundraiser and meeting with members of Congress.

Vandals scratched a swastika and the word "Republicans" into the window surrounding the entrance to his headquarters.

"I have no idea who committed this act," the candidate said. "I am personally offended that anyone would attempt to defame and intimidate me, my staff or my supporters by such a sick, anti-semitic action. Obviously, this will not dissuade our vigorous campaigning."

For those who like political outings, two big ones are at hand. Lake County Democrats will hold their annual picnic Sunday, July 17, in Area B of Old School Forest Preserve on St. Mary's Rd., south of Rte. 176 near Libertyville. Hours are 1 to 5 p.m. Chairman is Frances Negrete of Round Lake Beach. This will be followed on Friday, July 22, by the annual golf and tennis outing of the Lake County Republican Party. Golf will be played at Midlane, Brae Loch and Countryside golf clubs with tennis at the Kemper Lakes Golf and Tennis Club. A western-style steak fry will conclude the day from 5 to 8:30 p.m. at Midlane.

After 52 years Nustra is going strong

by JOSEPH SOULAK

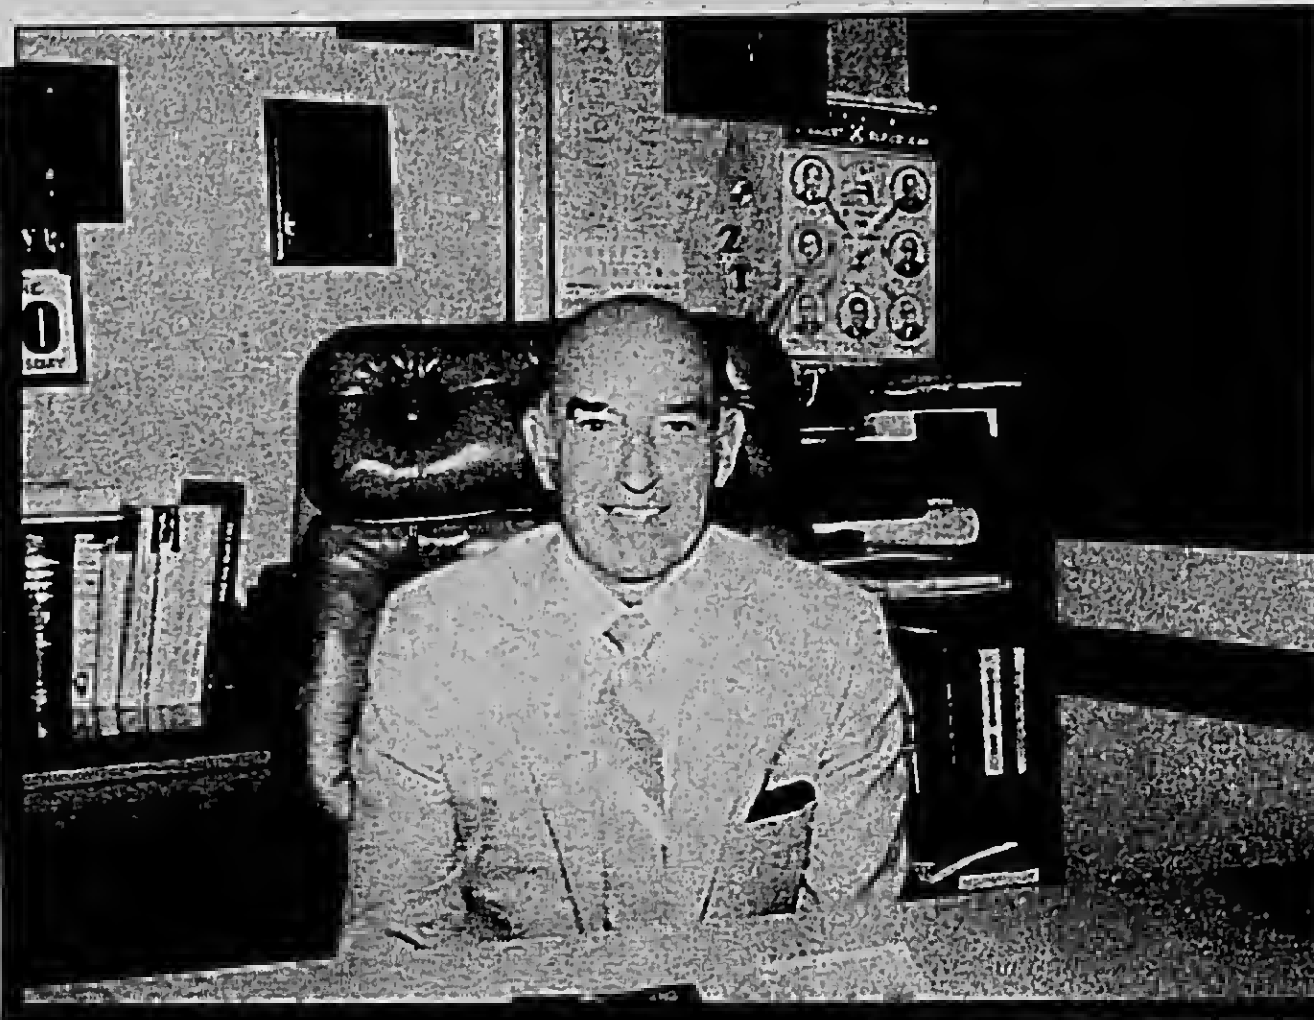

Elected officials can either be politicians or public servants. Frank Nustra, the recorder of deeds the past 29 years is every inch a servant of the people who have continuously elected him to office for 52 years.

That's the way it has always been with Lake County's longest-serving public official. "This office is here to serve and we do it efficiently, courteously, knowledgeably and professionally," the man-in-charge said of the philosophy he has followed during 52 years of public service. "Our entire staff is trained to treat everyone coming to our office like a member of their family. As a result, we get a lot of compliments and letters of thanks."

Nustra's office touches the lives of just about everyone in Lake County at one time or another. It keeps records millions of records dating back to the beginning of the county in 1839. These range from mortgages and deeds to all types of mechanics and tax liens to judgments and assignments. "It took 110 years to record the first 1-million instruments," the recorder said of that milestone reached in 1949, "and 12 years for the second million." At this point in recorded history the office is making its 2,800,000th entry.

When Nustra became recorder in 1959 the office had 14 employees, handled an average of 150 transactions per day and logged everything by hand. After a long and somewhat bitter fight with the County Board he is proud of having won, computers were added two years ago. Today's workload ranges from 450 to 750 transactions per day and the office has a staff of 22. Most all items are recorded the same day, or a matter of days, due to state requirements for closer scrutiny. One type of government lien is still hand posted, only because of the need for same-day recording.

All of this doesn't cost taxpayers a Man of many records

Lives of almost everyone in Lake County have been touched at one time or another by Recorder of Deeds Frank Nustra. His office keeps track of all real estate mortgages, liens and property transfers dating to 1839. Callers can generally talk direct to the man who has headed this office for 29 years from his desk and chair on the fifth floor of the courthouse where he is as ready to help anyone as his friendly staff.

dime. The office actually makes money for Lake County. Last year a near-record $2,300,000 was returned to the county general fund. So far this year $1-million has been turned back. Nustra is proud of that.

He is also proud of his personal accomplishments. His office on the fifth floor of the Courthouse is filled with plaques, pictures and shelves full of mementos ranging from Republican elephants to scrolls and ribbons. Among them is a 1986 letter from President Ronald Reagan congratulating Nustra for 50 years of service.

Conspicuously missing is a 14-inch silver bowl that is a replica of the annual Frank J. Nustra Award to the outstanding elected official made by the International Association of Clerks, Records, Election Officials and Treasurers. The actual award is a 12-inch silver bowl. Nustra helped found the organization in 1971 and saw it grow from 20 members to almost 2,000 today. Nustra has consistently refused to serve as president, however, he has been active with the organization in other capacities. Twice he did consent to be president; of the National Association of Records and Clerks in 1971 and the Illinois Association of County Officials the following year. Other than that Nustra has been content to serve as program or legislative chairman of the many organizations to which he belongs.

Several of the plaques commemorate his milestone of 50 years of public service reached in 1986. One is from the County Board, another from the City of Highwood where he lives and still another from Grant Twp.

For Nustra all of this began in the Depression year of 1936. Working for 25 cents an hour whenever he could and taking correspondence school courses, he was drawn to politics. He ran for and was elected Republican precinct committeeman in Highwood. While working for an auto body paint shop he continued taking accounting correspondence courses and practicing what he learned in the business. "My father had died and my brothers and I had to work to help our mother pay a $2,000 mortgage on our house," Nustra said of not completing high school. However, he did receive a diploma in accounting as a result of taking the mail course.

In 1939 he landed a job in the Lake County Treasurer's office, rising from clerk to deputy treasurer and chief administrator over the next 20 years. During that time he served under treasurers Garfield Leaf, Fred Beck, Guy Lunn and Hugo Schneider and worked with Terence Tucker, Hugo Schneider and Jack "Red" Anderson, who were elected to in later years. Until the mid-1960s the treasurer was not allowed to succeed himself. In his early years with the office, from 1941 to 1960, Nustra also served as justice of the peace for Deerfield Twp., holding court two days a week.

He resigned as a precinct committeeman while serving in the treasurer's office and as justice of the peace upon being elected recorder.

In the 1950s former Treasurer Fred "Gus" Beck became recorder of deeds. When he died at a GOP golf outing in 1959, Nustra was picked as his successor. He ran for that office in 1960 and has been elected every four years since.

Now 78, Nustra could have retired long ago. But he's not even thinking about it. His name is on the November ballot for the eighth time. "God willing and if the people will have me I will serve again," the small, 5-foot-5-inch unassuming man said. "You know," he added, "I grew up poor just like a lot of people did in the 1930s. I value what I have, beginning with a job. Work is a habit both here and at home," he said of a garden and flower bed he takes pride in tending in his spare time. "In public life I have always tried my best and the people have responded by re-electing me."

A regular Sunday church goer, Nustra is also a strong family man. He and his wife, Florence, last fall celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary. Their one son, Gerald, is a dentist living in Wauconda with a practice in McHenry. Their daughter, Cheryl, is married to Henry Warner of Lake Forest, president of the classic upscale Excalibur Auto Corp. in West Allis, Wis.

Sales tax reform part of new laws approved

by JOHN MATIJEVICH
STATE REPRESENTATIVE

The even-numbered year of the legislature is supposed to concentrate on budgetary matters, but it did act on some key issues. For years, studies have shown the sales tax structure needed change, so a comprehensive sales tax reform measure passed overwhelmingly. Starting in 1990, a more unified tax base with a common 6.25-percent rate will be imposed, administered and collected by the state. The state's share will be five percent, municipalities and unincorporated areas will be one percent, and countywide a one-quarter-percent rate. Home rule cities will be able to impose higher rates.

By setting a uniform tax rate, it is estimated that an additional $65 million will be generated. A new sales tax on photographs, negatives and positives that are the product of photoprocessing will bring in at least $15 million a year. Much of the new sales tax revenue will be used to pay off Build Illinois bond funds to finance wastewater treatment systems mandated by the federal government.

Mandatory withholding in paychecks of child support payments will begin Jan. 1 under a bill that was hotly debated, but which received wide support. Deductions can be waived if both parents in a divorce agree. Opponents of the bill argued that a parent who is up-to-date on payments should not suffer the embarrassment at work of having checks withheld for child support. The Dept. of Public Aid said that automatic withholding will reduce public welfare costs by at least $14 million.

A bill to crack down on bid-rigging also won wide approval. Governments will be able to recover double the amount involved in bid-rigging or kick-back schemes. Tough criminal sanctions will also serve as a deterrent.

The legislature reacted to expose's against certain vocational and trade schools which mishandled federal student aid money. Under the bill, students would be given a full refund if they withdrew within six days of enrollment and before the first day of class. Also, the schools must provide applicants with information about the school's graduation rate and its record on job placement. Students would also be provided with written enrollment agreements.

A solid waste management bill was finalized after a long dispute over the "tipping fee" between DuPage County and the City of Chicago. By 1991, Chicago and the larger counties must have plans in place. A bill was also passed mandating that starting in the mid-1990s leaves and grass clippings must be disposed of in a corn-plastic, biodegradable bags. By 1996, 25 percent of trash must be recycled in the larger counties.

Stormwater management was another issue that was resolved. To fund storm-water management and flood-control projects in areas flooded last year, a local tax was authorized. The bill was designed to assist all communities that might face flooding, but because of the more severe problems that faced DuPage and Lake Counties, the county boards asked for special taxing authority to finance stormwater management projects.

Crime Stoppers and the Waukegan Police Dept. are seeking information about an armed robbery which occurred at Larry's 24-hour gas station located at 2720 Washington St., Waukegan.

On April 26, at approximately 5:30 a.m. a black male described as 5 feet 6 inches to 5 feet 8 inches in height, having short black hair, wearing a baseball cap, striped shirt and grey shorts with white tennis shoes, came into the station requesting to use the rest room. When the station attendant went outside to show the man where the rest room was located, the offender produced a knife and possible handgun announcing a hold-up. Approximately $191 was taken.

Crime Stoppers and the Gurnee Police Dept. are seeking information on a burglary, which occurred to a semi-trailer and garages located behind the Rustic Manor Restaurant, 4660 Grand Ave., Gurnee.

Sometime between May 27, and May 31 someone entered both the semi-trailer and storage garages and removed unique items specifically described as: six antique wooden Indian, five leaded glass lamps, three clear leaded glass panes with etched designs, and wild game heads. Total value of the items taken was placed at approximately $8,000.

Persons with any information about this crime, or any other felony or felony fugitive should contact Crime Stoppers at (312)662-2222.

If the information results in an arrest and indictment the caller will be eligible for a cash reward up to $1,000.

Low lake levels are not bad for beaches

by BILL SCHIMMELFELDT

There is a common belief that in times of drought -- the lower the water level, the dirtier the water. That's not entirely true, according to a spokesman for the Lake County Health Department. In fact, he said lake water is at its dirtiest shortly after a rainfall.

After a long dry spell, said Steve Moylan, a product biologist at the health department, the first good rain may even cause a few beach closings.

The reason? Many need look no further than the family dog or cat. Every time "Spot" or "Fluffy" answers nature's call while outdoors, fecaliform bacteria is left behind, Moylan said. He said that type of bacteria is commonly found in the intestinal tracts of warm blooded animals. When it rains, the bacteria -- along with that of wild creatures like skunks and possums -- is washed into the nearest water source. Since lakes represent the lowest lying area in most places, it's only natural for the bacteria to end up in the lake, the biologist said.

Moylan said after this long dry spell it won't take a lot of rain for bacteria levels to skyrocket given the absence of a good, cleansing rain in the past few months.

Even without a drought, some lake dwelling people are asking for a beach closing, Moylan said. He cited large water birds like geese and ducks as being large contributors to the bacteria problem in nearby lakes. "Even one or two large geese could cause a problem," he said. When people feed these birds, they tend to stay. The longer they stay, the more they...well, the bigger the problem.

Several beaches at each lake in the county are checked twice a month or more for bacteria levels. There can be no more than 499 colonies of this type of bacteria in 100 milliliters (about four ounces) of lake water. A reading of 500 or higher gives the beach an unsatisfactory rating. If an unsatisfactory reading is present, the biologists return the next day. Two consecutive unsatisfactory ratings, the beach is closed until levels go back into acceptable ranges.

Moylan said no beaches are closed in Lake County. However, in the month of June, five beaches received unsatisfactory readings on one day only to be judged satisfactory the next day. In total, 148 beaches at 52 lakes and ponds were checked in June.

Lake Zurich

Timothy S. Johnson of Lake Zurich has been named Central/Northwest Control region radio program manager for the House of Seagram, according to an announcement by Kevin J. Smith, vice president-general manager, Central/Northwest Control region. Johnson has been southeast regional for National Account Sales since he joined the company in 1985. The House of Seagram is the domestic marketing unit for the distilled spirits of Joseph E. Libertyville Libertyville resident Pat Bell led the First United/Rayner Libertyville office to a record sales month in June, according to Tom Kreuser, vice president and sales manager. Bell led in unit sales volume and listings taken for the month. Bell is a member of the Condell Hospital Auxiliary and has been active in the Libertyville Swim Club and Girls Softball program. She and her husband, George, and their three children live in the Butler Lake area of Libertyville.

Gurnee

Only 13 homes are left in the first phase of Kensington Courte, a Gurnee townhome community where sales have been as hot as the weather. The first phase consists of 51 homes in 13 buildings, with prices running from $89,000 to $100,500. When completed, Kensington Courte will include 196 townhomes. Work on the second phase is already underway. The community's convenience is furthered by a U.S. Post Office located adjacent to Kensington Courte.

Bi-State

Scott Peterson has joined Gander Mountain, Wilmot, as third shift operations manager of the Wilmot warehouse facility, according to James Stewart, vice president and general manager. In his new position, Peterson is responsible for all aspects of warehousing during third shift. Prior to joining Gander Mountain, Peterson operated a parts distribution center for the U.S. Marine Corps in El Toro, California. He earned a bachelor's degree at Northern University. He and his wife Patricia and their two children, Amy and Eric, will soon reside in Lily Lake, Wisconsin.

Waukegan

The program, "Trading ...Our American Heritage" will be given by Kevin McDermott to the Northeastern Illinois American Business Women's Daytime Chapter during their Saturday July 23 meeting at the Ramada Inn, 200 N. Green Bay Rd., Waukegan. Networking begins at 11:30 a.m. and lunch will be served at noon. McDermott is a trade broker with the Midwest Trade Exchange. He will examine the value of trading in our American economy. Among his topics will be discussions on "Why should my business trade?" and the "Impact of trade on cash flow." The American Businesswoman's Assn. is open to anyone interested in business, education and networking.

Bingham opens roller plant in Round Lake

Bingham Company, headquartered in Mt. Prospect, with branches in over 20 locations throughout the United States and licensees around the world, has responded to roller demand in the midwest by opening a new plant in Round Lake.

The 12,000 square foot factory with state-of-the-art equipment will produce rubber and urethane printing roller covers for the graphic arts market according to Bingham President Robert E. Jenkins.

"The newly opened Round Lake plant will employ 25 to 30 people once it reaches full operating capacity in about six months," Jenkins said.

Plant manager Paul Socha, a Round Lake native, who is a past president of the Panther Pushers, has coached in Little League, and been involved in the scouting programs in the area. Socha says, "We are on full stream, manufacturing a complete line of rubber and urethane graphic arts rollers. The installation of latest equipment will enable us to provide the highest quality product line."

This is the first of two plants in Bingham's immediate expansion plans. The second facility is projected to be about 20,000 square feet will employ about 30 people, Jenkins said. While the exact location hasn't been determined, the President said it will be in the Chicago area.

Jenkins declined to disclose the cost of either plant. He did say, however, Bingham will spend in addition to the cost of the new plants—$1 million this year renovating its worldwide facilities.

"There is a demand for higher quality and more durable covers in the Midwest," said Jenkins. "As a consequence, there's a need for a plant dedicated solely to the graphic arts market."

The over 150 year company's 1987 sales were strong enough to warrant the expansion. Jenkins said "Bingham which bills itself as the largest producer of rubber and urethane roller covers in the U.S. posted a 13 percent sales increase in the 1988 first quarter."

Walgreen donates $1000 to Adopt-A-PAL program

With an estimated 31,000 Lake County adults having less than a ninth grade education, corporation gifts, such as the Walgreen Company's recent $1000 donation to the Private Industry Council Foundation's Adopt-a-PAL, foster a better educated workforce by attacking the problem of illiteracy.

Rita Cooper of Cooper International in Prairie View, co-chairman of the drive, said on receiving the gift, "Lake County companies are beginning to recognize the threat of worker scarcity and appreciate the Private Industry Council's efforts to increase the pool of available and job-ready workers."

Henry Cade, director of public affairs for the Deerfield-based drug store chain, noted that Walgreens is happy to "help in a very beneficial effort."

Adopt-A-PAL, the name given to the fund-raising campaign, seeks to put in place the IBM Principle of Alphabet Literacy System (PALS). This program has demonstrated success in raising the reading and writing levels of adults by two school grades. For example, "a person can go from a fifth grade reading level to seventh grade in just 20 weeks," said Cooper.

When the system is operational, each student will be called a PAL. Sponsoring companies will be given periodic status reports on the progress of sponsored students, their adopted PALS.

According to Marcia Trinski, Cooper's co-chairman, "There are 67,000 adults with less than a high school education in the county. Many of these individuals have come to realize that the strategies they have devised to hide their lack of education will no longer work and they will have to improve their reading and writing skills to be able to compete in today's labor market."

Private Industry Council receives national award

The National Assn. of Counties has honored the Private Industry Council of Lake County with a 1988 Achievement Award for "Recruiting Welfare Recipients to Fill Labor Market Needs," according to information just received by Christine Stevens, director of the council.

In the notification letter, John P. Thomas, executive director of NACo had this to say about the council's application: "We felt that your proposal provided an innovative solution, and I would like to commend you on your ingenuity and creativity in establishing this useful program."

The award winning program is an ongoing public relations effort made by the marketing division of the council to contact and encourage participations in training for employment on the part of those individuals who are on public aid.

"We market our programs to public aid recipients to make them aware of the opportunities for training, employment and personal advancement open to them through the Private Industry Council," said Marieleen

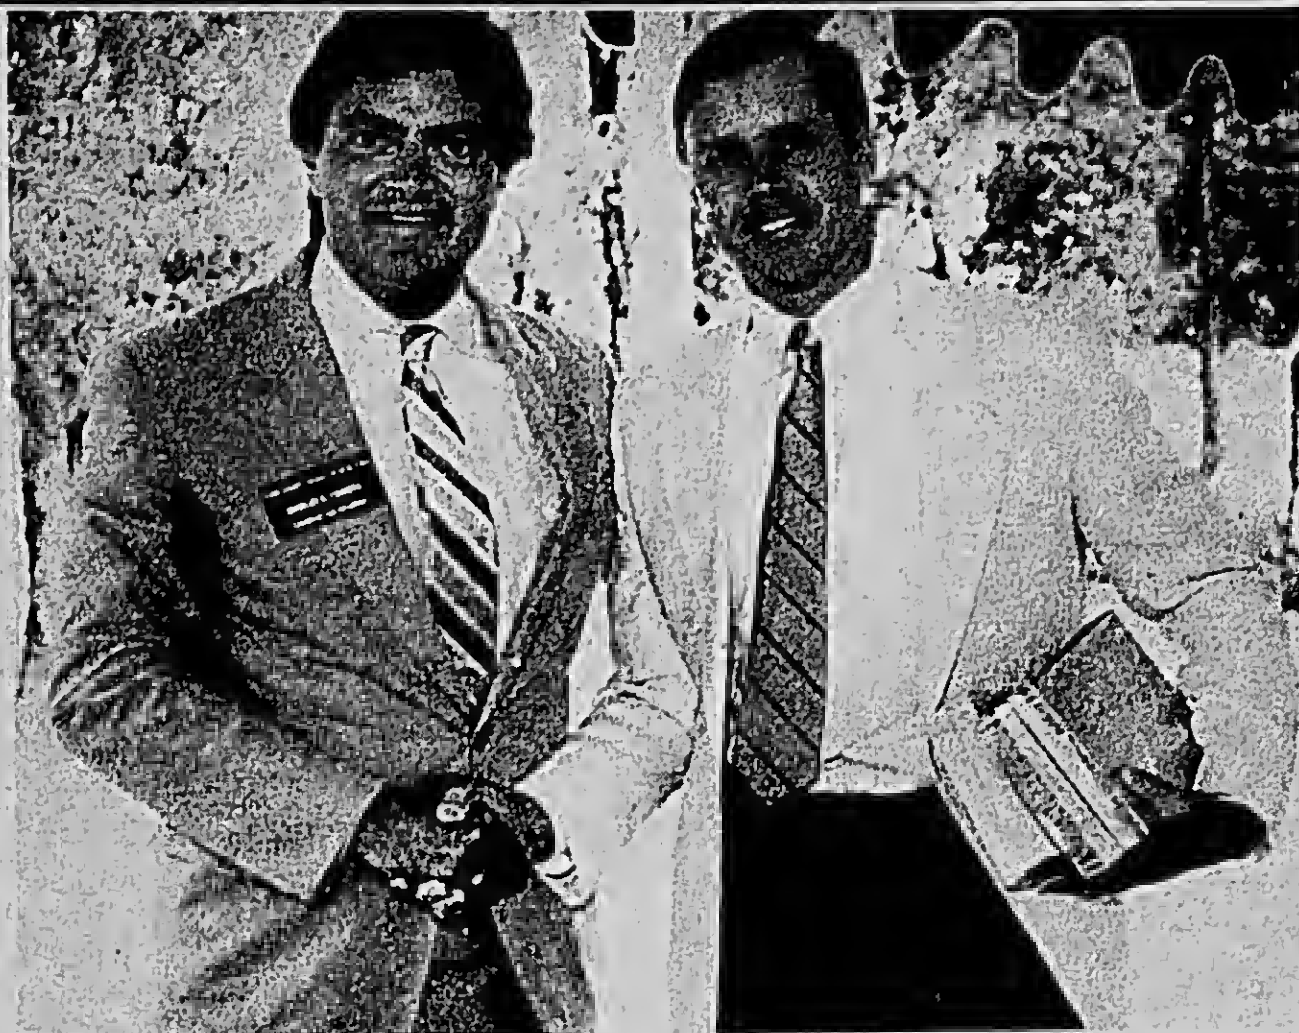

Sabato, the council's marketing coordinator. "We are also concerned about the need for the inclusion of all capable persons in an expanding job market. Our economic climate cannot bear a labor supply shortage. The new companies in the county need trained workers, and many persons on public aid can be prepared to fill those needs."

Charles C. Isely III, past chairman of the marketing committee expressed the council's sentiments. "We are gratified to receive this award. This is another example of the success which can be achieved using the proven business technique of one-on-one target market mailing."

The National Assn. of Counties' award will be presented to a county representative at the association conference in Anaheim, California.

Promote to manager

John F. Kane has been promoted to manager of safety and environmental health in the chemical and agricultural products division at Abbott Laboratories.

Sales award winner

Charles Farnera, left, executive vice president of Lake County Board of Realtors, congratulates Larry Desmond of Century 21 Maki-Paulson, Waukegan, for his award-winning first quarter of 1988 sales achievements. Desmond received his awards at second annual Board breakfast at Hunt Club Farms, co-sponsored by Fogelson Companies and Cambridge Homes.

Today's skills aided

Today's office is a whole new world of automated and technically advanced equipment systems.

The College of Lake County has recognized the need for additional training and has designed the Office/Secretarial Re-entry Program for those returning to the ever changing office. An information and registration session will be held on Wednesday, July 20, and Tuesday, Aug. 16 at 2 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. at the Grayslake campus in room A-111. Those interested in enrolling in the program should attend one of the four sessions.

These sessions will provide detailed explanations of the program and will provide participants with information about college services. Students interested in enrolling in the class will be able to register at these times.

Information will also be given on how the students can enhance their personal marketability through the use of the placement center and the career counseling center. Financial aid information will also be available at these sessions.

Since 1983 this program has been successful in retraining and helping students upgrade their secretarial skills. The one-semester program will be offered daily during the fall semester only. It offers specific office skills refresher classes, career exploration, and training on word processing equipment.

Edison puts rate reduction in effect for summer

Commonwealth Edison's proposal for an immediate 13 percent reduction in summer electricity rates has been adopted by the Illinois Commerce Commission (ICC). The first bills reflecting the lower summer rate were to be issued June 17.

The summer rate phase-in period began May 17 and continued through June 15. The new lower summer rate is retroactive to May 17, so any electricity used during the recent warm spells by customers already on the summer rate will be billed at the reduced summer charge. Customers are billed at the summer rate for four full billing months and at the non-summer rate for eight full billing months.

Depending on when a customer's meter is read, the summer billing period began as early as May 17 or as late as June 15. The non-summer period can begin as early as Sept. 15 or as late as October 14. A customer can determine the beginning of the summer rate period by looking at the time covered by his or her bill. If the end of the billing period is from May 16 to June 14, that will be the customer's final non-summer bill.

Intermatic names Banathy new marketing manager

Intermatic Inc., of Spring Grove, one of the industry's leading manufacturers of pool and spa timing control products, has named Eugene D. Banathy to the newly-created position of Marketing Manager. Pool and Spa Controls, according to Donald Ferguson, vice president of marketing.

Banathy, a native of Hungary, joined Intermatic in 1962. He most recently served as director of engineering for Electromechanical Products for Intermatic.

"Gene has been responsible for many key Intermatic's products during his tenure in the engineering department," Ferguson said. "At one time or another, he has been responsible for all major products the company currently offers, including Mailbu low voltage lighting, Time-All consumer timers, Intermatic time switches, and the Intermatic line of pool and spa controls. He also holds three patents on various product innovations," Ferguson added.

Banathy received his technical education in Hungary, Switzerland and the United States. Besides being a registered professional engineer, he holds a bachelor degrees in both mechanical and electrical engineering, and has done advanced degree work at Northwestern University.

He and his wife, Erika, are residents of Skokie. They have two grown children, and both hold college degrees.

Intermatic is a leading manufacturer of consumer and industrial timing and lighting control products, outdoor low voltage lighting, and portable heaters.

WEEKEND

and FOCUS ON FEATURES

Check it out!

by GLORIA DAVIS

Be there!

Summertime means more and more outdoor activities so there's something for everyone to do, especially on the weekends. Just "pick your druthers" and go man go!

The Great Circus Parade, only one of its kind in the country, is set for Sunday, July 17, through downtown Milwaukee.

Calling all fishermen, Salmon-A-Rama will be going on at the Racine's lakefront through July 24, at the Racine-on-the-Lake Festival Park.

If you can't make the real thing on the Dark Continent, why not try the Family Insect Safari at the Volo Bog State Natural Area at 1 p.m. on Sunday, July 17. Catch live critters and find out what makes them tick.

Hundreds of antique dealers from all over the midwest will be congregating at Lambs Farm in Libertyville for a big antique and collectibles sale on Sunday.

The third annual "Door County" fish boil will start at noon, on Sunday, at the North Point Marina in Zion, sponsored by the Zion-Winthrop Harbor-Beach Park Chamber of Commerce.

The proud owners of classic and antique cars have been waiting all year to show their babies off, ergo the highways are full of these gorgeous vehicles. A lot of them will be heading to Melleny and the Seven Acres Antique Village and Museum on Rte. 120 and Union Rd. for the annual Rod, Custom and Classic Car Show Sunday.

Speaking of Melleny, Fiesta Days which include concerts, sidewalk sales, art-in-the-park, a parade, etc., will take place July 17-24.

Here's an offer you can't refuse, it's Fiesta Italiana in Milwaukee from July 21-24, featuring Robert Merrill and the Milwaukee Symphony Orchestra on opening day.

On stage

As part of Chicago's 1988 Theatre on the Lake playbill, the South Shore Cultural Center Players will be doing that fine old classic, "Arsenic and Old Lace," July 19-23 at the Lincoln Park Pavilion on Fullerton and the Outer Dr.

For those of you that prefer to forsake all that outdoor activity for blessed air conditioning, "Shear Madness," still billed as the funniest show in the Chicagoland area, is still on the boards at the Mayfair Theatre in the Blackstone Hotel.

Candelight's spectacular production of "Dreamgirls" continues to pack them in. All this and a good dinner too!

Musical notes

That new dynamic homeshell Tiffany will take over Alpine Valley's stage at 8 p.m., on Friday, July 22.

For you heel stompers, the locally popular country group, the Silver Dollar Band, will be doing it at the Sundance Saloon, just west of Mundelein on Friday and Saturday week.

Jazz lovers might head for two of Chicago's Concerts in the Parks. Millard Brown's Jazz All-Stars will be at Lake Meadows on Sunday, at 7 p.m. and at the same time, on Thursday, July 21, at Columbus Park. Cozy Eggleston's Jazz and Blues Review will be jammin'.

Aerosmith's on Poplar Creek's stage Sunday.

Decadent cast of 'Cabaret'

Dynamite cast secret of 'Cabaret'

by GLORIA DAVIS

Marriott's Lincolnshire Theatre has brought back "Cabaret" for a second time around, with a dynamite cast, some giving individually brilliant performances.

uneasiness, and dark foreboding, if that was Van Druten's intent.

Top billing in this one goes to one of Chicagoland's busiest leading ladies, Paula Scrofano. She has the powerful belting voice it takes to put the title song and my personal favorite, "Maybe

This Time" over.

As in her recent performance as "Evita", Scrofano is still not believable in the role of a streetwise woman who has been carelessly sleeping her way through Europe. Her rendition of Sally (Cont. on weekend page 4)

Critic's Choice In...

John Van Druten's play, on which "Cabaret's" book is based, is not among this reviewer's favorites. I still think as I did the first time around, that "Cabaret" is a musical to be experienced, as is the tv mini-series "Holocaust", not necessarily one to take pleasure in.

The tawdry, dreary, fear-filled plot is saved by some great musical numbers and some fine singing and acting in Marriott's case.

Enjoying a musical based on the German decadence preceding Adolf Hitler's rise to power in the late 1930's, could make one feel as guilty as finding a musical based on Steinbeck's "Grapes of Wrath" a good way to spend a fun evening.

But the Marriott production does the job of leaving one filled with uncertain

Collins is early bird that gets biggest morning audience

by JOSEPH SOULAK

"Early to bed, early to rise," is an old adage many people follow. That includes WGN radio personality Bob Collins.

For two years, five days a week, he has been in bed at 8 p.m. so he can be up by 3 a.m. the next morning. After a quick breakfast and a short drive he is at the Bradley Place studios of the midwest's No. 1 station by 4:30 a.m. Not once in two years has he missed his 5:30 a.m. sign on. "I've got a four-wheel drive vehicle," he said about the Chicago winters he sometimes battles.

Collins uses the time before going on the air to read the day's newspapers and loosely plan the morning. Shortly before broadcast time he dons earphones, adjusts the microphone in front of him and takes a cue from the engineer at 5:30 a.m. to begin another day of talk and music. This mix combined with his gregarious, down-to-earth personality have made him No. 1 in morning drive time. He has held this distinction since trading places with the popular Wally Phillips, who held down the same time slot for some 15 years before.

"I just do and say what comes naturally," Collins said of his mostly free-wheeling show. He talks to listeners from every walk of life, calls on experts for information about a particular topic, gives weather information, breaks for traffic reports, makes an occasional appeal for a worthwhile cause and, in general, identifies with his audience, young and old.

Four hours later, at 9:30 a.m., he might sign off saying, "See you tomorrow, God willing, if the sun is shining and the creek doesn't rise."

Afterwards, he may hang around the studio, visit friends in Chicago or show up for a guest appearance. Then, it is back to his Lake County home and his wife of two years, Christine. He fondly refers to her on the air as Agnes. She is somewhat younger than his 46 years, but not in spirit. They do things together, beginning with cooking at home or eating out. On weekends they get on a motorcycle to travel throughout Lake County and southern Wisconsin. "I love the area and the people," he said of his love affair with both sides of the state line.

Bob, Christine Collins

Collins has been in the radio business for 32 years, starting as an after-junior-high-school announcer while growing up in Lakeland, Fla. He has been at WGN for 15 years.

"It's a wonderful way to make a living," he said. Lots of Chicago area radio listeners are glad he feels this way. That's why they invite him into their home for four hours each morning.

'Charley's Aunt' to slip onto Opera House stage

The Illinois Stage Company of Northern Illinois University will present the world famous British farce "Charley's Aunt" at the Woodstock Opera House on July 14, 15, 16, 17 and July 21, 22, 23, and 24.

"Charley's Aunt" will play Wednesday through Saturday at 8 p.m., Sundays at 3 p.m., with a matinee on Saturday, July 23 at 2 p.m.

Tickets may be purchased by calling the Woodstock Opera House Box Office at (815) 338-5300 or by calling Ticketron in Illinois at (312) 853-3636; in Wisconsin and Indiana at 1-800-843-1558. Visa/Mastercard accepted.

Written by Brandon Thomas, "Charley's Aunt" is a clever charade produced by three turn-of-the-century Oxford college boys and the mess they find themselves in when their foolish plans go awry.

Jack and Charley, completely enamored of two lovely, young ladies, invite them to luncheon in order to meet Charley's wealthy aunt, from Brazil, "where the nuts come from!"

But alas, the millionaire aunt sends word that she will have to defer her visit for a few days. Big problem! The young ladies cannot be unchaperoned.

Comic confusion results when Lord Fancourt Babberley, the other Oxford student, dons a black dress, fishy, cap and wig and is introduced as Donna Lucia d'Alvadorez, Charley's old aunt, from Brazil, "where the nuts really come from."

"aunt" is courted by two older gentlemen. The comic romp climaxes with the arrival of the real "aunt" who allows the masquerade to continue, to the delight of the audience (and herself).

"Charley's Aunt" will be directed by James O'Reilly, former artistic director of the Body Politic Theatre of Chicago. As an actor O'Reilly has appeared on stage, in film and on radio.

Last season O'Reilly directed the highly acclaimed production of "Brighton Beach Memoirs" and will direct the musical "West Side Story" during the fall '88 season at Northern Illinois University.

"Charley's Aunt is a wonderful old play and this a delightful revival by the Illinois Stage Company. It's an evening of good clean family fun, charming and slapstick, in the style of the Marx brothers!" notes O'Reilly about his production of "Charley's Aunt". Don't miss the non-stop hilarity and the hilarious fiendish antics of this wacky cast at the Woodstock Opera House.

The scene design is by Scott Marr, costume design is by Pamela J. Rehberg, lighting design by Betsy S. Coopridge-Bernstein, and the stage manager is Jon Loflin.

Officer trained in tanks

Second Lt. Phillip A. Kalsch, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Kalsch of 5207 N. Woodroe Ave., McHenry, has completed an armor officer basic course at the U.S. Army Armor School in Ft. Knox, Ky.

The course covered branch training in armor for newly-commissioned officers with a special emphasis on the duties of tank and reconnaissance platoon leaders.

He graduated from Johnsbury High School in 1981 and, in 1987, received a bachelor of arts degree from the University of Illinois Chicago campus.

Lakefront to revive old lighted boats on parade

Waukegan's Lakefront Fest '88, Lake County's largest free music festival, will rekindle tradition in front of thousands on Sunday, Aug. 7 with the first annual Harbor House Venetian Night.

Committee members from the Ice Cream Harbor, Waukegan Special Events Office, Waukegan Port Dist. and LaFarge Corp. are organizing the lighted boat parade which will illuminate Lake Michigan immediately following the Main Stage performance by national act Chubby Checker. A fireworks display will take place following the boat parade.

Accepting the position of Venetian Night Parade Marshal is John Moulis, a Waukegan Harbor boater who will be driving a 45-foot boat. He is owner of Fox Lake Harbor with his father and brother and many boaters may know him for his dock parties and steel band performances.

He is very enthusiastic about the Harbor House Venetian Night and hopes that many of the Harbor boaters will participate.

Categories for judging will include most creative design, most lights and most colorful. Prizes will be sponsored by various merchants and will include such items as two dinner cruises on Skipper Buds Celebrations luxury yacht donated by the Waukegan Port Dist. A panel of judges will be selected and announced prior to the parade as will the judging location.

The Venetian Night Committee is hoping for a turn out of 50 or more boaters and is extending the invitation to participants to all neighboring harbors. For information, call the Waukegan Special Events office at (312) 360-9000 or the Harbor House at (312) 249-5747.

'Cabaret'

Bowles is a chronology filled with the antics of a devil-may-care English coed on a spree who needs a good spanking, instead of the hardened joy addict bent on self destruction that Van Druten had in mind.

Serofano has the voice for a "Cabaret" singer but she does lack the leggy physical attributes that those Marlina Deitrich garter-belted black stockings call for.

There are three separate scene stealers in this one, Darren Matthias as the foundering American author, James Harms as Herr Schultz and Jim Corti, who does an imitation of Joel Grey in the role of the Cabaret emcee that made Grey famous.

Matthias is the one real person in a menage of fakery. Harms plucks the heart strings as the ill-fated German Jew and Corti does the only thing one can do with the emcee's role that Grey created and made his own forever.

As usual Marriott's chorus gals and guys do a bang-up job, the girls sailing through their hoydenish numbers with alacrity.

The dark tasteless stage settings, which contribute greatly to the aura of reweave

Another memorable "Cabaret" tune "Tomorrow Belongs To Me," a beautiful song almost as inspirational as the "Star Bangle Banner," made ominous by history's records, gets kudos in the song department when performed by the bulk of the cast.

Serofano and The Kit Kat Club's chorines are properly improper with "Don't Tell Momma," and the two duets sung by Harms and his show-love Rhondi Reed, "It Couldn't Please Me More," and "Married," ar soft-pedaled showstoppers.

"Cabaret" fans will love this version and for others, the performances of the chorus, Harms, Corti, Matthias and Serofano's voice, add up to an enjoyable musical evening.

Arts, crafts at Lambs

A fun-filled day of recreation including spectacular Art & Craft Fair and down-home entertainment is planned at Lambs Farm on Sunday, July 31, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. The Lambs is located at the intersection of Rtes. 176 and I-94 in Libertyville.

The festival will be held rain or shine and admission and parking are free. The Lambs is a non-profit residential and vocational facility for mentally retarded adults. For more information call The Lambs Special Events Hotline at (312)362-6774.

ROCK TRACKS

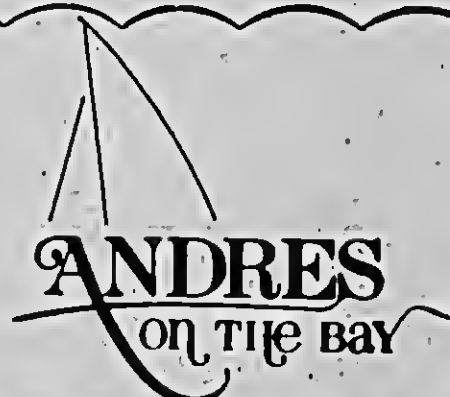

Hair, "The American Tribal Love-Rock Musical" has been digitally remastered for compact disk by RCA Victor in celebration of the twentieth anniversary of the Broadway musical. The major restoration of The Original Broadway Cast Recording features six bonus tracks of newly restored music previously unreleased on a 60-plus compact disk and cassette with two new cuts, "Electric Blues" and "Going Down," on the L.P. A 24-page booklet commemorating the twentieth anniversary of Hair accompanies the CD, which became available May 27th. The album and cassette due sometime this month. The six bonus tracks on the 60-plus CD and cassette include four songs and two reprises: "I Believe in Love," "The Bed," "Ain't Got No" (reprise), "Manchester England" (reprise), as well as "Electric Blues" and "Going Down."

Hair opened on April 29, 1968, at the Biltmore Theatre, New York City. With music by Galt MacDermot and book and lyrics by Gerome Ragni and James Rado, the Original Broadway Cast Recording includes performances by Diane Keaton, Melba Moore, Paul Jabara and Ronald Dyson.

Peter Elliot, an RCA executive, explains: "For many years a best seller in the RCA catalog, Hair was an international success with songs such as 'Aquarius,' 'Good Morning Starshine,' and 'Let The Sun Shine In' spreading Hair-mania around the world... I wanted to bring it back to digital life and unearth previously unreleased tracks that I knew must have been on the tapes. The major restoration of Hair is of special significance because it represents a unique phenomenon in American Musical Theatre."

Lettermen at Hawthorn

The Lettermen, top singing group of 1950s-60s, will be on stage at Hawthorn Center at 9:15 p.m. in center's northwest parking lot, as part of Music Under the Stars concert series, on Tuesday, July 19.

Renaissance Faire under new management

King Henry VIII and Queen Catherine of Aragon will ascend the throne this year at the Bristol Renaissance Faire, an authentic celebration of the people and pageantry of the Tudor times in Old England. The faire opened July 9 and runs weekends through Aug. 21.

Located near the Illinois state line in Bristol, the Bristol Renaissance Faire gives Illinois and Wisconsin residents the opportunity to actually participate in a re-creation of the gaiety and revelry of a 16th Century English country faire.

The enchantment lives in this magical journey back in time. The faire's streets and stages are filled with village folk, wandering minstrels, dancing gypsies, comic jugglers, mud beggars and a variety of rollicking entertainers all celebrating the arrival of the king and queen.

Cooks, bakers and brewers of all sorts tempt faire-goers with authentic culinary offerings, including scones, clutneys, baked goods, roasted fowl and fish, exotic fruits, Beggars Pudding, ale and King Henry's favorite -- the venerable turkey leg.

Faire-goers with an appetite for sporting activities can view exhibitions of jousting tournaments on horseback and knightly swordplay, both "to the death." Participatory sporting events include knife, ax and star throws, the quintain, archery and various tests of skill and strength.

Merchants greet shoppers from their quaint shops along the tree-lined marketplace. Unusual fine fairings (crafts), true to their era, include hand-made wax, wood, woven, glass and metal cultural icons, pottery, gems, clothing and even all-natural medicinal remedies from an Old English apothecary. Most crafts are available for purchase, with prices ranging from $1 to $2,000.

On the site of the former King Richard's Faire, the Bristol Renaissance Faire opened under new management this year. The Faire's new general managers, Stan Gilbert and Rikki Kipple (husband and wife), and owner Pete Leavell of the Boulder, Colorado-based Ellora Corp., have been busy since January readying the 80-acre faireground for its Renaissance resurgence.

Stage 2 to open with 'Spiral Stair'

Stage Two Theatre Company, a Lake County-based professional theater company, adds another first to its precedent-setting 1988 season. Stage Two has scheduled a stage reading and discussion of its 1989 world premiere production, "Down the Spiral Stair".

"Staged readings are important in developing new works," according to Bryan Simon, executive director of the company. "It allows the playwright to discover if the intent and meaning of his play is clear and understandable. Immediate audience feedback is also vital to the actors and playwright in gauging effectiveness."

Not only has Stage Two attempted to stimulate thought and arouse imagination with its choice of productions, but this ensemble also believes that theater is a vehicle to inform and to disseminate ideas which could change opinions. The company's productions reflect a strong social conscience.

The play takes place within the confines of a concrete bunker and spans a 24-hour period. This bunker houses State Tourist, a center for interrogation, whose responsibility is to gather information on the sanctuaries of illegal aliens and on terrorist activities.

When the head of the agency is assassinated, Dr. Alex, an expert on national security, recruits Harold Snimen to aid in the investigation. Snimen refuses to cooperate until informed that his mistress has been linked to the assassination.

To avoid complicity, Snimen is forced to interrogate her. "Down the Spiral Stair" is a study in psychological and physical manipulation, creating a complex tug-of-war, pitting survival against moral conscience.

David Welsh, co-author of the play, will be directing the staged reading, which is scheduled for July 15 and 16 at 8 p.m. at the College of Lake County, Theater Bldg. 5, 19361 W. Washington, Grayslake. Admission is free.

Gurnee meetings

The Gurnee Village Board meets the first, third and fourth Mondays of each month. Board meetings are held at the village hall and begin at 8 p.m.

Tommy Tune

Critic's Choice In... Lakeland

Talented Tune is dancing at best

by TOM WITOM

Tommy Tune, the talented young singer-dancer appearing at Chicago's Royal-George Theater, pays tribute to musical giants of another era.

The works of George Gershwin, Irving Berlin, Cole Porter are staples of his repertoire, which also includes a grab-bag assortment of little known songs from Fred Astaire, Tune's idol.

The Tony Award-winning performer describes his act as "contemporary nostalgia." We call it wonderful.

Tune croons and tap-dances his way through several flashy numbers, from "Puttin' on the Ritz" to "Shanghai Lil" and "My One and Only". His interpretation of "Top Hat and Tails" is memorable.

The choreography and costuming also are standouts in the 90-minute show. Tune decked out as "The Jitterbug" keeps the audience in smiles.

With the Manhattan Rhythm Kings, Tripp Hanson, Hal Shane and Brian Nalepka as sidekicks (backup team doesn't do them justice), Tune shines—especially in an Astaire song, "The After Beat". The four, tap-dancing in unison through an intricate number of steps, put new meaning to synchronicity.

As the amiable Tune goes about proving "These are the good old days—dreams can come true again", it's easy to get caught up in the soothing sounds and smooth moves of yesteryear.

SummerNights concerts

Saturday and Sunday, July 16 and 17, Marvin Hamlisch, who has won a number of Tony and Grammy awards, 3 Oscars and a Pulitzer Prize, will be joining the Milwaukee Symphony Orchestra at Uihlein Hall. The program will be part of the MSO's SummerNights '88 concerts. The orchestral portion of the program will be under the baton of Associate Conductor JoAnn Falsetta. The concerts will begin at 8 p.m. and will be preceded by musical performances in the Chestnut Grove of the PAC. Call (414) 291-4829 for further information.

County hotels offering deal on back-yard vacations

Whether you need a vacation break on the weekend or during the week, Lake County, hotels have economic and exciting packages to help you get away.

Weekends are something special at the Hyatt Deerfield, located at 1750 Lake Cook Rd. in Deerfield. The Hyatt offers a weekend package that includes a suite-sized room, complimentary bottle of champagne, breakfast for two at Madison's restaurant and full use of the health club and indoor pool for just $79 per night, based on double occupancy.

Marriott's Lincolnshire Resort, Milwaukee Ave. and Rte. 22 in Lincolnshire, provides four different weekend getaways for its patrons.

The "Free For All Weekend" allows guests to enjoy one day and one night of fun at the resort with a choice of two tickets to Marriott's Lincolnshire Theatre, two complimentary hours on the tennis or racquetball courts, a round of golf on the resort's 18-hole course or two tickets to Six Flags Great America. Prices range from $89 to $109.

Golfers will love "The Great Golf Weekend," a three-day, two-night golf package that features unlimited rounds of golf and breakfast each morning, all for under $300.

Guests who enjoy the "Great Escape Weekend" receive a two-night vacation with dinner for two each evening in the King's Wharf or Fairfield Inn, Sunday brunch and two tickets to Marriott's Lincolnshire Theatre, priced under $400.

"Two for Breakfast," the most economical Marriott weekend package at under $90, offers a one-night stay for up to five people as well as breakfast in bed or at the Fairfield Inn.

Scheduled to open its doors Aug. 5, the Hawthorn Suites Hotel, 10 Westminster Way Rd., Lincolnshire, will be presenting two weekend packages for its patrons. The special weekend rate is $69 per night for a one-bedroom suite and $92 per night for a two-bedroom Hawthorn Suites Hotel's other package, "Make Our House Your House," is also available for one or two nights and is highlighted with a complimentary Saturday night barbecue.

Weekday escapes are available at other area hotels. The Ramada Inn, 200 N. Green Bay Rd., Waukegan, offers a package unique to Ramada, "Four-For-One," Sunday through Wednesday, the Ramada offers a large room with two double beds, enough to accommodate four people, for $59.95, the usual price for single occupancy. In addition, Ramada offers complimentary transportation to the Great Lakes Naval Training Center and Six Flags Great America.

The Waukegan Travelodge, located at 222 Grand Ave. in Waukegan also has mid-week rates. From Sunday to Wednesday, guests can take a "Vacation Break," and enjoy any room in the hotel for just $39.

For more information on the various hotel packages in Lake County, Illinois, contact the individual hotels or call Gail Svendsen, executive director of the Lake County, Illinois Convention & Visitor's Bureau at (312) 662-2700.

ROCK TRACKS

By Rob Ferrus

A piece of legislation is currently working its way through the halls of Congress that would allow federal authorities to seize the assets of Warner Brothers Records, CBS Records, Capitol Records and record stores across America on little more than a whim. The proposed law is derisively named the Child Protection and Obscenity Enforcement Act. It is a direct outgrowth of the work of the infamous Meese Commission.

This law is a clear danger to First Amendment rights in more than just the record industry. Book and magazine publishers are involved as well. The bill has been supported by a massive 337 co-sponsors and, in early June, legislators were deluged with mail supporting the bill. Remember, to those people, mail equals votes. That avalanche of correspondence was launched by a coalition of right-wing religious groups, who used their massive network of grass-roots organizations to mobilize their constituency.

If the idea of this bill's passage disturbs you, what can you do? If you're a member of the record industry, call or write the RIAA, NARM, or NARAS and urge that they involve themselves in the fight against the bill. If you're a music fan or a First Amendment fan, write your congressman. This bill could easily censor your music and potentially much more.

The addresses are: RIAA, 1020 19th Street, N.W., Suite 200, Washington, D.C., 20036; NARM, 3 Eves Drive, Suite 307, Marlton, N.J. 08053; NARAS, 303 N. Glen Oaks Blvd., Suite M140, Burbank, CA 91502.

Iggy Pop, then known as the maniacal Iggy Stooze of the Stooges, once caused an uproar with his tongue-in-cheek ditty, "I Wanna Be Your Dog" (1970). Who would have guessed the song would live on? Joan Jett included it in her recently released Up Your Alley LP. Iggy's next, Instinct, will be released any time now. ©1988, McNaught Synd.

CLC to weave fables

Children are invited to the College of Lake County to see the presentation of Aesop's Fables on Thursday, July 28 at 1 p.m.

The performance by the Waukegan Park Dist. Bowen Park Theatre Co. will be held in the CLC auditorium. Ticket price is 50 cents per person and will be available in advance at the activities box office and at the door. Advance ticket purchase is recommended as seating is limited.

This presentation was specially prepared for young audiences and will last approximately 50 minutes. The program is sponsored by CLC Student Activities and Child Care center.

WHAT CONDITION IS YOUR SPINE IN?

The condition of your spine has a direct relationship to your health. The spinal cord is the lifeline of the body. If you are having the sensations of numbness in the hands or feet, electric shock sensations, hot spots, cold spots, constant stinging or even burning, chances are your spine is not in the condition it should be in. These are signs of severe chronic nerve irritation and should be cared for before more serious irreversible complications occur.

Pinched nerves can be the cause of:

1. Headaches
2. Neck Pain
3. Shoulder Pain or Knee Pain
4. Difficulty Breathing
5. Lower Back Pain, Hip Pain, and Pain Down the Legs.

ANSWER

ASK TOM

Lee Horsley will draw again on CBS this fall

By Toni Reinhold

I miss seeing Lee Horsley on TV. What has he been doing since "Matt Houston" was taken off the air? - G.R., Long Beach, Calif.

Lee Horsley

Drawing Texan Lee Horsley is busy once again. Earlier this year he starred in a production of the play "Mack and Mabel" at the Papermill Playhouse in Milburn, N.J. And this fall, he'll star as an 1880s gunfighter in a new CBS series called "Paradise." He was born in Muleshoe, Texas on May 15, 1955, and grew up in Colorado. After graduating from college, he went to New York to begin an acting career, but was unsuccessful. So he returned to California, where he tested - unsuccessfully - for the series "The Gangster Chronicles." He finally won a series role on "Nero Wolfe" in 1981, playing William Conrad's sidekick. Then, in 1982, he landed the lead role on

"Matt Houston," which aired on ABC until 1985, with moderate success.

For all of you fans who have asked for a mailing address, write to Horsley in care of CBS Audience Services, 51 W. 52nd St., New York, NY 10019.

What was Gypsy Rose Lee's real name? Is it true that she had a sister who was a famous actress? - P.M., Terre Haute, Ind.

Lee, one of the most famous strippers who ever lived, was originally named Louise Hoviek. Her sister is actress June Hlayee.

Did Paul Lynde ever have his own TV series? We know he was on "Bewitched" and "Hollywood Squares," but someone says Lynde also had his own show. - E.P., Fort Worth, Texas

Lynde starred in two series: "The Paul Lynde Show" (1972-73) and "Temperatures Rising" (1973-74). But the comic, who died in 1982 at age 55, is perhaps best known for his appearances on other people's shows, including "The Red Buttons Show," "Stanley," "The Kraft Music Hall," "The Pruitts of Southampton," "The Jonathan Winters Show" and "The Goldiggers." Lynde played the recurring role of Uncle Arthur on "Bewitched" (1965-72). And he was a frequent guest on "The Donny and Marie Show" (1976-79).

For basketball camps

Lake County junior and senior high school girls may take the opportunity to brush up on their game during basketball camps in Valparaiso, Ind., over this month.

When Tracy Manuel graduated from Antioch High School in 1982, she was looking for basketball camps to improve her skills. But none were to be found. Today she is co-director of two camps.

This is the second year of the Midwest Post Development Basketball Camp for high school girls ages 15-19 and above. Participating coaches are Theresa Grentz, Division coach of the year at Rutgers University and Andy Landers, 1987 National Coach of the Year at University of Georgia. To be eligible, players must be in their sophomore, junior or senior year in high school this September. Camp begins at 6 a.m. July 29 and will close at 5 p.m. July 31 with an awards ceremony. Swimming will be available daily. Tuition is $135 and a $60 deposit is required with each application to guarantee a spot in the camp. All campers must provide all insurance.

For junior high school girls, the Midwest Fundamental Basketball Camp will be held July 24-28 at Valparaiso University. Coaches in the junior high camp will be Donita Davenport of Central Michigan, Jim Izard of DePaul, Marty Hawkins of Loyola, Don Perrelli of Northwestern and Dave Wolster of host Valparaiso.

To be eligible, the campers must be in junior high school. Tuition includes room and board for $215.

All campers must have their own medical insurance.

Tourney in Fox Lake

It may not be as glamorous as the Western Open, but Fox Lake Country Club will be the center of attention for the golfers of the Chicago area July 15.

The Semi-Pro Golf Tour will make a one-day stop at the par 72, 18 hole course. So far, the tournament, in its first summer, has made three stops in the Chicagoland golf courses. Tournament Dir. Dan Urban said he hopes as many as 50 golfers will be competing in Fox Lake.

Winners so far include Delph Gustigus of Palatine and John Kelly of Kildeer. Gustigus won the Poplar Creek tournament with a gross score of 81 and a net score of 72. He also won the tournament at Bal Maral Country Club. Kelly's score of gross 81 and net 72 was good enough to win the stop at Pinecrest Country Club in Huntley.

Urban said the number of golfers has been increasing at each stop. Urban said there are still openings in the tour for the remaining stops. The season fee has been reduced to $80 and golfers who are interested may contact Urban at (312) 773-7350.

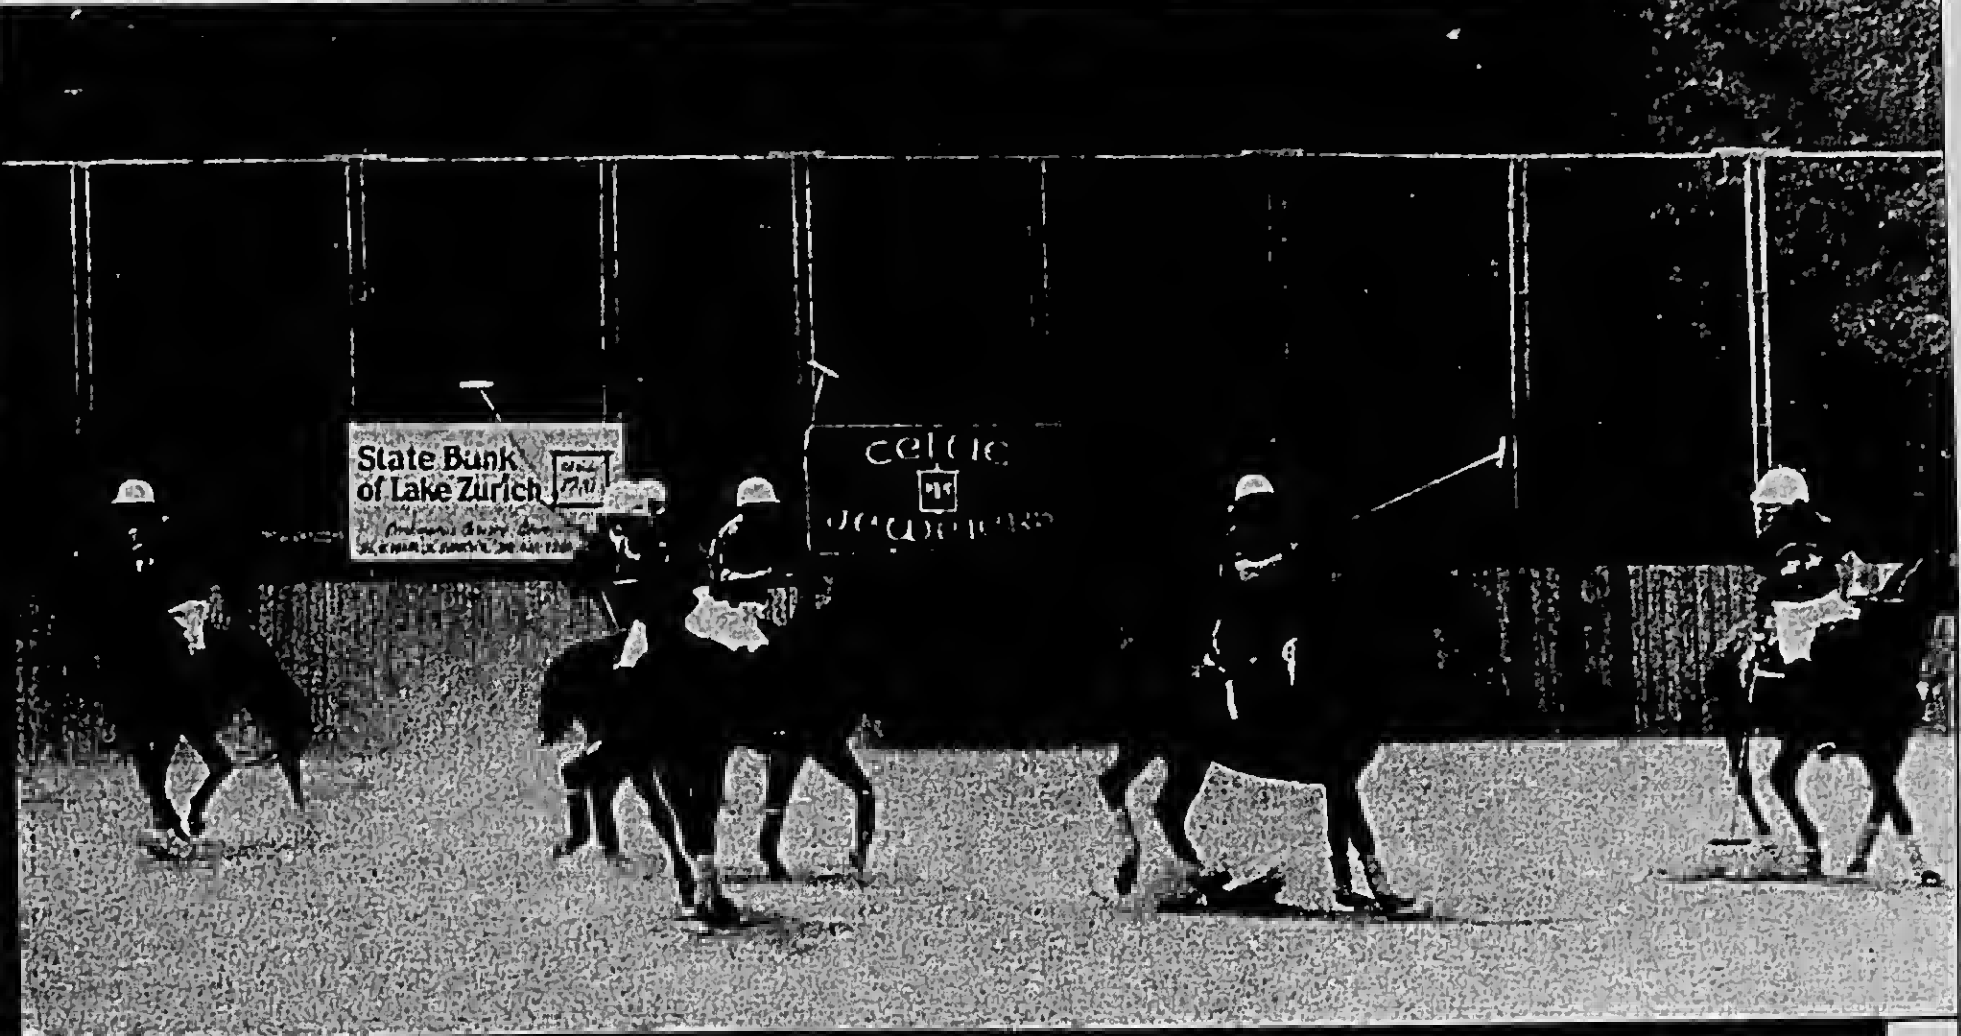

Offer tennis lessons

Senior and junior high school students interested in improving their tennis game may wish to enroll at tennis camps sponsored by the College of Lake County this summer.

Directed by C.L.C. tennis Coach Lance Lavery, the senior high school camp will be July 18-29. The junior high camp will be Aug. 1-12. Both will be co-ed.

Cost is $65 per student and enrollment is limited to the first 21 enrolling in each class.

For more information and application, call (312) 223-3600.

Mavericks give post-college soccer players chance to refine skills

by STEVE PETERSON
Sports Editor

Imagine yourself as a soccer player. Whether it be goalie, forward or sweeper, the position does not matter. You've played in the local American Youth Soccer Organization program, the high school team and in college. But what next?

The North American Soccer League, the outdoor version, has joined the likes of the World Football League. Even the Major Indoor Soccer League, the indoor game which was at one time hailed as the savior of the sport, is on its deathbed and the Chicago Sting's indoor team is history.

Seem hopeless? Not if you're in Lake County. The Tri-City Mavericks are offering a chance for soccer players to refine their skills while professional leagues figure which way is up.

"Our purpose is to utilize talent in the area at a higher level of competition. There is not a lot of opportunity for players beyond college," Larry Backes, owner of the Mavericks, said.

The good news for soccer fanatics, of course is the sport dubbed "Sport of the 80s" will be on world stage in 1994 when the U.S. will host the World Cup.

"It's definitely going to have an effect. But it will depend on how we do between now and then," Backes said.

Regarding the Sting, Backes said owner Lee Stern is merely jockeying for position for an outdoor league team after folding the indoor version.

The Mundelein based team is comprised of a wide range of players. One is 16-year-old and another is 26-years-old.

The Mavericks compete as a semi-pro team and will be at a tournament in Rockford on July 16 against Rockford United.

So far, the Mavericks are 1-2-1 in league play and are coming off a tournament at Fort Wayne in which they lost all three games.

"We were in every game but we need to find a finisher," Backes said.

The Mavericks, who are coached by former Sting star Rudy Glenn, fell to Madison United 3-1 in the first matchup of the two teams.

The Mavericks managed a good first half against Madison United, but they did not maintain that first half desire to the end of the game. The first half ended with the Mavs up 1-0 as Ben Collins lobbed a pass to Jeff Taylor for the goal. Taylor headed a chip shot past the goalie's head.

Lake County soccer fans will be able to watch the Mavericks play in their next home match July 31 at Mundelein High. The 3 p.m. match against the Illinois State Select Team will feature halftime antics of the Jesse White Tumblers. This will be a "Just Say Know" to drugs game and all profits will be donated to the Just Say No Foundation.

Ram tracksters qualify for national meet

Several Lake County high school athletes from the Ram Track Club will be competing in the National Junior Olympics to be held in Gainesville, Fla. on July 27-29.

The top three finishers from the Illinois-Indiana Region VII Junior Olympic Track and Field Championships held in West Lafayette, Ind.,

Tammy Borque of Round Lake High School competed in the 15 and 16 year old age group and placed second in the high jump and the 100 meter hurdles and ran a leg on the 4 x 400 relay race.

Steve Hamil of Grayslake High School was second in the 15 and 16 year old age group in the high jump. Other Grayslake High athletes who placed were Bob and Chris Lupori. Bob was second in the 200 meter hurdles in the 13 earlier this month qualified for the meet to be held at the University of Florida campus.

to 14 year-old age group. His sister Chris was second in the 15 and 16 year-old division in the long jump and ran a leg in the 4 x 400 meter relay.

The team of Chris Lupori, Rachel Brooks of Round Lake High School, Barb Wunn of Antioch High and Bourque finished third in the 4 x 400 meter relay.

Indiana U. selects Manuel as new women's hoops assistant

Sometimes all it takes is a phone call in order to make a career move.

And for Tracy Manuel, a call from former mentor Jim Izard and an trip to Bloomington, Ind. turned into a pleasant end result when Manuel landed an assistant coaches' position in women's basketball with the Hoosiers.

"Since high school I knew I wanted to coach and teach but in my senior year I narrowed it to coaching," Manuel, a 1982 Antioch High School graduate said.

Manuel was appointed assistant coach earlier this month. She said she will be assisting in recruiting as well as on-the-bench coaching.

These days, Manuel is preparing for the upcoming season by being a co-director at two basketball camps at Valparaiso University. One, the Midwest Post Development Basketball Camp, is for girls 5-9 and over. It will run July 29-31. Another camp, for junior high and high school girls, begins July 24 and ends July 28.

"Because of the popularity of girls basketball, girls know that if they want to play in college, they have to attend the camps," Manuel said.

After graduating from ACHS six years ago, there were few such basketball camps for Manuel to perfect her skills.

Manuel got an early jump on her athletic career, beginning in the fourth grade. Two years later, girls sports teams began to become a reality.

Manuel played field hockey and softball as well as basketball at Antioch, but hoops remained her favorite.

She began her collegiate career at University of Illinois-Chicago and then transferred to DePaul. She was named to the North Star All Conference team as a junior, when she set DePaul's single season rebounding record. She captained the Blue Demons in her next year.

Last year, she was an assistant coach at Central Michigan University in Kalamazoo, Mich. where she was studying for her master's degree in sports administration.

Manuel knows that there is plenty of talent close to home to recruit from.

"All the Midwest schools hit the Chicago area hard and then go out to the suburbs. It's the players who get the most publicity who get noticed first," she said.

Lake Zurich edges Vernon, tournament games on horizon

The last week of the regular season had a mixed bag of results for the baseball teams. Lake Zurich, Mundelein, and Lake and Vernon are all trying to gain momentum for the district tournaments which begin July 15.

For Lake Zurich, the week featured three one-on-one contests, but only one win.

Lake Zurich edged Vernon 5-4 in the eighth inning. Chad Cooper provided the heroics for Lake Zurich, clubbing a homer on the first pitch for the decisive run.

Jim Hook also had a grandtripper and Jack Kloss had two RBIs and a double. Lake Zurich out-hit Vernon 8-6. Keith Cichon was the winning pitcher.

Then against Mundelein, it looked like Lake Zurich was going to register an easy win. Lake Zurich led Mundelein 10-4 as late as two outs in the fifth inning but Mundelein put together a dramatic comeback.

Cooper and Hook each had two hits and Kloss had two RBIs. Ricky and Randy Splitt both contributed to the Lake Zurich offense.

Lake Zurich also led early but then lost a heartbreaker, 15-14 to Barrington in extra innings.

Lake Zurich led 6-1 early in the contest. Four of those runs were scored when Cooper blasted a grand slam.

Then the rains came and the delay hurt Lake Zurich and helped Barrington.

Barrington tied the game and then took a 15-12 lead. Lake Zurich tried to comeback and added two runs but that was not enough.

Dug Out Park in Trevor, Wis. has set the dates for more summer tournaments.

On July 16 and 17 there will be a 16 inch U.S.S.A. world qualifier tournament. Entry fee is $100 and sanctioning is included.

Then on July 23 and 24 the 12 inch U.S.S.A. tournament will be held. This tournament is a qualifier for class "D" teams. The entry fee is $80 and sanctioning fee is included.

On the same weekend a Split homered for Lake Zurich.

Lake Zurich, with one game left on the regular season slate, ended up with an 8-6 overall record, 5-5 in district play.

Mundelein registered a whopping 18-5 win over Round Lake and defeated Libertyville 16-5 in a game which was played to nine innings because of the rain on Sunday.

Dave Smith, a Mundelein High School hurler, was the winning pitcher over Libertyville. Smith allowed five runs on three hits.

Atkinson wins featured race at Wilmot Speedway

Defending champion Darrell Dodd of Beach Park won his second 25-lap J&L Oil Interstates Racing Assn. winged sprint car feature of the season on Saturday, July 9 at Toft Auto Racing's Wilmot Speedway in Wilmot, Wisconsin.

Kenosha's Allen Winker took home the checkered flag for the second time this season in the 20-lap modified main. Pointleader Al Atkinson of Pleasant Prairie won his seventh 20-lap Wilmot late model main and 18th checkered flag of the year. Second year competitor Brian Crasper of Racine won the first feature of his career and took top honors in the 15-lap spectator stock main.

Joe Symeons led the first nine circuits with Larry Hillerud going in front on lap 10. On lap two, the caution flag flew when Rick Lawrence's mount stalled. A final yellow came on lap 17 when Al Schlafer spun. Hillerud maintained the lead to the finish, but in a post-race adjustment of the final standings, he was penalized for a jump start on the second lap moving him back to second. Dodd was awarded the win with the revised standings finding Hillerud second, Symeons third, Carmen Manzarido fourth and Kim Mock fifth.

In a wheel to wheel battle in the modifieds, Gary Dye and Fred Ebler exchanged the lead several times during the first 12 laps before a caution when George Gaertner Jr. and Kevin Sinnott tangled. On the restart, Winker worked his homebuilt Winker-Nichol Chassis-Don Wells Auto Service-Akroling Machines modified in front using his "ride the rail" style of driving on the outside. At the finish it was Winker. Len Ostrowski Jr., defending champion and pointleader Mike Frost, Tom Johnson and Tim Cox competing in the top five.

Three-point hoops hotshots will show talents at Lake Fest

The Waukegan Park Dist. will sponsor a three-point shot championship at the City of Waukegan's Lakefrontfest on Sunday, Aug. 7.

Waukegan's Team Boardstiff and the Pavement Players will be the featured entertainment during intermissions.

The final four competitors will receive a "final four" t-shirt from the Waukegan Park Dist. and a Lakefrontfest t-shirt. Additionally, the champion will receive two tickets to a Chicago Bulls basketball game.

The tournament-style championship is open to all 12 years or older. Individuals may register at the Belvidere Recreation Center, 412 S. Lewis Ave., or the Community Recreation Center.

Individuals must register by Monday, July 25. Registration is limited. Participation is free and registrations will be available upon registration.

Bicycle adventure of a lifetime

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

Interested in a 38-mile bicycle tour? How about we make this trip in Hawaii. Let's add one more feature particularly appealing to an aging babyboomer like myself. It's all downhill!

This little trip is known as Cruiser Bob's Haleakala Downhill, and begins at the summit of the Haleakala crater at 10,023 ft. on the island of Maui and ends at the beach in Paia at sea level. It is an adventure that you will remember for a lifetime.

Bob offers two departures. The one I would recommend is the sunrise trip. Just seeing the sunrise from the summit of Haleakala is worth the trip, and that's just the beginning. You are picked up from your hotel at 3 a.m. (Think of it as 8 a.m. Central Standard Time.) You're driven to the crater's summit on the same road you will bicycle down so you will become familiar with the roadway and terrain. You get breakfast on the summit and watch the sunrise.

You then begin the 38-mile downhill adventure. You will experience all of Maui's beauty, from lunar-like volcanic terrain, tropical jungles and waterfalls to white sand beaches.

You are accompanied by two professionally trained escorts, a tour cruise leader and escort van driver. The tour leader is in constant radio communication with the van. You will be traveling at about 15 miles per hour and will be allowed plenty of stops for picture taking and refreshments. A picnic lunch is also included.

You will be riding a specially designed bicycle with brakes that could stop a Sherman tank. The ride doesn't take much physical effort, yet it is still not for someone who has not been on a bike before. While there is no age requirement, you must be over 5 feet tall and not pregnant. Obviously anyone with a medical condition impairing their ability at high elevations should not take the trip.

Temperatures can be 35 to 40 degrees at the summit, so warm clothing is recommended, as are glasses and closed-toe rubber soled shoes.

The total trip takes about 8 hours. While the $95 price tag may seem a little high, it's an adventure you will be telling your grandchildren about!

Obituaries

John Henry Epstein

age 69, of Lake Forest, Illinois, died Monday, July 11, 1988, at his home following a brief illness.

He was born in Chicago October 16, 1918, and was raised in Ravinia (Highland Park), Illinois, and made his home in Lake Forest. He was a graduate of Ravinia Grammar School, 1932; Lake Forest Academy, 1936 (he was chairman of their 50th reunion in 1986). He was also a graduate of Stanford University, 1940. During World War II he was a pilot with the U.S. Army Air Force and saw action in North Africa and Sicily. After the war, he returned home and worked for Grayslake Gelatin Company in Grayslake, Illinois. He assumed the position of president in 1953 after the death of his father, Harry Epstein, who founded the Grayslake Gelatin Company in 1922. He was well known for his civic activities in Grayslake. An avid big game hunter, he made several trips to East Africa on safari. He was a well respected member of such organizations as Amateur Trap Shooting Association, Ducks Unlimited, Safari Club International, the Explorers Club, the North American Wild Sheep Federation, and the Makaha Indians in Hawaii, the latter of which he served as High Chief in 1985.

Survived by his loving wife Lucy (Estes) Epstein and three daughters, Jean (E.) DesMarais of Bloomfield, Colorado; Susan H. Epstein of Buffalo Grove, Illinois; Laurie G. Epstein of Lake Forest, Illinois; and one granddaughter, Kristin M. DesMarais, Bloomfield, Colorado.

Preceded in death by his parents, Harry and Anne Epstein and a brother, Chester Epstein.

Funeral services will be 1 p.m. Friday, July 15, 1988, at STRANG FUNERAL CHAPEL, 410 E. Belvidere Rd., Grayslake, Illinois, with Rev. G. Anton Danielson, Pastor of St. James Lutheran Church of Lake Forest, Illinois. The family will receive friends one hour before services.

Mercedes I. Weisell

age 74 of Ingleside, Illinois. Died July 9, 1988, in her home in Ingleside, Illinois. She was born January 3, 1914, in DeKalb, Illinois, and lived in Ingleside 35 years. She was an elementary school teacher in the DeKalb school system nine years and, also, in the Round Lake school system for eighteen years. She served as principal of Big Hollow Elementary School eight years. She was educated at Northwestern University. She was Past Worth Matron at the Eastern Star. She married Robert M. Weisell October 3, 1953, in Waukegan, Illinois.

Survivors include her husband Robert M. Weisell; one son, Randy (Dawn) Weisell of Spring

Grove, Illinois; and one grandson. She was preceded in death by one sister and one brother.

Services were private. Friends desiring may make contributions in her memory to the Lake County Cancer Society. Arrangements were made by the GEORGE R. JUSTEN & SON FUNERAL HOME, 3519 W. Elm St., McHenry, Illinois.

Victor John Paulus

age 82, of Antioch, Illinois, passed away June 30, 1988, in the Vataran's Administration Hospital (Medical Center) in North Chicago, Illinois.

He was born December 18, 1905, in Chicago, Illinois. He served in the U.S. Army in World War II and was awarded the Purple Heart. He was a member of the VFW. He was a carpenter by trade and also worked for many years at Sorenson's Ball Shop in Antioch, Illinois.

Survivors include Eileen Nassom of Colorado; his sister-in-law Bertha Paulus of Chicago Heights, Illinois; five grand-nephews; and close friends, including Vesli (Bill) and Doris Muedini of Kenosha, Wisconsin.

He was preceded in death by his wife Nora on December 13, 1987. Services were held July 5, 1988, with Frank Kosto officiating. Arrangements were made by H. MARIK SONS' GUARDIAN CHAPEL, 6507 W. Carmok Rd., Berwyn, Illinois, with interment in Bohemian National Cemetery in Cicero, Illinois.

Sportsman John Epstein headed foods company

John H. Epstein achieved national recognition in the foods industry and as a sportsman.

He was president of Grayslake Gelatin Co., at one time one of the nation's leading producers of quality gelatin, and a member of such sports clubs as Ducks Unlimited, Explorer's Club of New York and, locally, the Northbrook Sports Club, now located at Hainesville.

In 1985, Mr. Epstein served as high chief of the Makaha Indians, a Hawaiian sports club that has a world-wide membership.

Funeral services for Mr. Epstein, 69, will be held at 1 p.m. Friday, July 15, at the Strang Funeral Chapel, Grayslake, where friends may call at noon until time of service. Burial will be private.

Mr. Epstein died Monday, July 11, in Lake Forest, where he made his home for many years. He had been treated for heart trouble since June 1 after suffering a heart attack at Renwood Country Club while playing golf.

He took over the presidency of Grayslake Gelatin in 1953 upon the death of his father, Harry, who founded the foods firm in the early 1920s. The mid-county concern produced high quality edible gelatin for both wholesale and retail outlets. Its familiar orange sunrise trademark was instantly recognizable on store shelves from coast to coast for nearly 50 years.

When foreign competition became a factor in the 1960s, Mr. Epstein shifted the company's focus to gelatin distribution and the company's extensive farming operations. The company maintains one of Lake County's last remaining dairy herds.

He competed annually in the Grand American Trap Shoot, and had an international acquaintanceship among big game hunters gained from trips to Africa and the Rocky Mountains.

Mr. Epstein was an avid art collector, specializing in the works of famous artists of the Old West. He also was a history buff and was considered an authority on Custer's last stand.

Born in Chicago, he grew up in Highland Park and graduated from Lake Forest Academy. He received a degree from Stanford University in 1940 and then entered the Army Air Corps where he served as a bomber pilot, serving in the North Africa and Sicily campaigns.

While still in uniform, he married Lucy Estes of South Carolina July 16, 1944. They were married 44 years.

Surviving are his wife; three daughters—Jean E. DesMarais of Colorado, Susan H. Epstein of Buffalo Grove and Laurie G. Epstein of Lake Forest; and a granddaughter, Kristin M. DesMarais of Colorado.

Donations can be made to the American Cancer Society and the American Heart Association.

New leader breathes life into party

JOSEPH SOULAK

For years talk of the two-party system in Lake County has been just that. For as long as anyone can remember it has been the Republicans and those who weren't. When a Democrat did sneak into office everything was done to ignore him or her and make sure this wouldn't happen again.

That's the way it went for years, even decades. This year it's different. There's Betty-Ann Moore, a full-fledged flag waving, foot stomping, get-out-and-vote Democrat. Not just any Democrat, but a new party chairman for all of Lake County.

Since campaigning for last spring and winning the office few others wanted, she has set out to make Lake a two-party county. Toward that goal she has personally recruited and, sometimes,ajoined candidates into running for every major county, state and national office on the November ballot. "Politics isn't a dirty word," Moore said climbing up on her always-handy soap box. "It's a way of participating in government. If people want a choice in who will lead them politically and make decisions they have to do more than vote. They have to support those candidates by working for them and financially."

and more people moving to Lake County from Chicago I think you'll see the margin shrink even more." Besides that, she doesn't think there is much of a political difference between the two parties, only philosophical, if that.

To make sure the Democrats are heard and their candidates are visible Moore is traveling the width and breadth of Lake County to deliver her message. Right now the party office is in her car and the party files in a briefcase on the back seat. That will change by the end of the summer with the party's first office, probably in Waukegan. "I also intend to be visible and vocal," she said of her grass roots undertaking. To spread the party message even further, she has established a monthly newsletter of party news.

Wherever she goes Moore identifies. Her easy-going attitude, desire to know; willingness to share ideas and infectious laughter make her easy to like. Along with giving the party a voice she has given it new life. It is a voice that has been building throughout her 12 years in Lake County, even before.

For the past four years it has been as a member of the Lake County Planning Commission. An avowed open space advocate, she has been a part of all major decisions involving such areas as Picket Fence Farm in Grayslake, Liberty Lakes in Lake Villa Twp. and Libertyville Twp. where this movement is at a zenith.

"I was raised out East," she said of Connecticut, graduating from the University of New Hampshire and serving as a psychiatric occupational therapist in New York and New Jersey. "I saw how unplanned, unorganized growth was choking the older cities. Here, I saw an opportunity to maintain planned, moderate growth combined with open space and agricultural areas."

Lake County is such a beautiful area. What we have here is worth maintaining." Her planning ideas were shared for nine years as a member of the Lake Bluff Planning Comm. where she lives.

In 1982 she found time to serve as Lake County coordinator for the Democratic gubernatorial ticket of Adlai Stevenson-Mary Grace Stern. Today she still has the title of aide to Stern, who is now 58th Dist. state representative.

Because Moore believes so strongly in the principles of the Democratic Party she is willing to work and work hard. Along with the ability she has the time to do it. Her two sons, Christopher, 20, and Jonathan, 22, are now in college. Her husband, John Fitzallen Moore, who has degrees from Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Harvard and Cornell universities, is busy as a physicist with Bio Imaging Research Inc. of Lincolnshire.

"The time was right," she said of no longer being a full-time mother and housewife, but someone with a strong desire to revitalize the party. "This is the happy coincidence people dream and talk about," she said of her new role. Toward her goal of giving the party new life she is using a grass roots approach to the two-party system. Moore leaves little doubt she will succeed. Even those in the Republican party marvel at what she has done in the four months she has been on the county political scene. If she works any harder the GOP may have to get out and do the same rather than rest on its political laurels.

Democratic flag waver

What other bumper sticker should the new chairman of the Lake County Democratic Party sport than one for presidential candidate Michael Dukakis? The flag waving, foot stomper is Betty-Ann Moore, 49, who uses the van as her office as she travels the county to revitalize her party and make Lake a two-party county.

Library to add new video line

The Community Library is planning to expand its services to patrons by adding videos to its circulating collection. The Kenosha County Library System has provided funds for films in a variety of categories: educational; classic; popular; and children's.

Suggestions from the public about films, or types of films, that should be included in the collection are welcome.

The library is also taking applications from individuals interested in serving on a video selection committee. For more information, call the library at (414)889-4606.

STATE OF ILLINOIS,
COUNTY OF LAKE,
IN THE CIRCUIT COURT OF THE NINETEENTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT, LAKE COUNTY, ILLINOIS
IN THE MATTER OF THE ESTATE OF ADELE A. HOLTZ, Deceased, GENERAL NO. 88P-426

NOTICE FOR PUBLICATION WILLS AND CLAIMS

NOTICE is given of the death of ADELE A. HOLTZ. Letters of Office were issued on June 17, 1988 to JAMES LUMBER, of LYNCH, LUMBER & MC ANDREWS, 397 Lake Street, Antioch, Illinois 60002.

NOTICE is given to unknown heirs, heirs or legatees who are named in a Petition, filed in the above proceedings to probate a Will, and whose names or addresses are not stated in the Petition that an Order was entered by the Court of June 17, 1988, admitting the Will to probate.

If a Will has been admitted to Probate, you have the right within 42 days after the effective date of the original order of admission, to file a Petition with the Court to require proof of the Will by testimony of the witnesses to the Will in open court or other evidence, as provided in Section 6-21 of the Probate Act (Ill. Rev. Stat., Ch. 110-1/2, Sec. 6-21). You also have the right under Section 8-1 of the Probate Act (Ill. Rev. Stat., Ch. 110-1/2, Sec. 8-1) to contest the validity of the Will by filing a Petition with the Court within six months after admission of the Will to Probate.

Claims against the Estate may be filed in the office of the Clerk of the Court, Lake County Courthouse, 18 N. County Street, Waukegan, Illinois 60085, and with the representative, within six months from the date of issuance of Letters; and any claims not filed within that period are barred. Copies of a claim filed with the Clerk must be mailed or delivered to the representative/attorney within ten days after it has been filed.

LEGAL PUBLIC NOTIFICATION LEAD CONTAMINATION IN DRINKING WATER FOR THE VILLAGE OF ANTIOCH

Congress legislated a ban on use of all lead solder and pipe as a part of the Safe Drinking Water Act Amendments of 1986. The language in those amendments requires that all public water supplies notify their water consumers of the potential dangers of lead in drinking water, and provide information regarding steps consumers can take to prevent ingesting water containing high lead levels.

Lead has been used in piping, solder, flux and plumbing appurtenances such as faucets for many years. Solder and flux used to join copper pipe contains lead. It is likely that some portion of your home or business plumbing system contains lead, if the system was constructed prior to the implementation of the lead ban in 1986.

Routine chemical sampling in Illinois has not confirmed lead above the national standard in the drinking water which leaves your local water treatment plant and enters the public water supply distribution system. Contamination occurs within the private plumbing systems attached to the public water supply distribution system. Plumbing fixtures, solder containing lead and, in some cases, lead pipe, can permit lead to leach into the drinking water if water is left standing in the pipes for several hours, or if the water itself is somewhat corrosive. To prevent lead contamination, remember:

Use only cold water for drinking, cooking and preparing baby formula.

If water has not been run in your home, school or business for several hours, (overnight, on weekends, during vacation periods), turn on the tap and allow the water to run until you feel a temperature change. This will remove or flush the water which has been standing in the pipes and supply water directly from the public water supply distribution system piping. It is very important that school custodians flush the drinking fountains each morning before children arrive.

Home softeners should not be plumbed to the cold water which is used for drinking and cooking. A separate pipe can be installed for cooking and drinking, or the softener can be installed to include only hot water processing.

Place a glass or pitcher of water in the bedroom or bathroom for small children or members of the family who get up in the night for a drink of water. Store some drinking water in a glass jug in the refrigerator for drinking.

Be sure small children understand the importance of allowing the water to run until the temperature changes before drinking.

The average lead content in the water delivered to your home is less than 5 parts per billion. This concentration is within the limit of 50 parts per billion allowed by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.

The pH and hardness of the water are such that a thin layer of calcium carbonate is deposited on the insides of the distribution lines and plumbing to prevent corrosion of piping.

If you think lead has been used in your home plumbing system, conduct this easy test of pipes or solder. A key or screwdriver can be used to scratch the surface of any dull grey pipe or soldered joint. If the metal scratches easily and appears bright silver, the pipe or solder is most likely lead. Consult with a licensed plumber to discuss whether or not lead is present in your plumbing system, and which methods you can use to remove the lead from your home or business.

Questions concerning lead in drinking water should be directed to:

Questions regarding Water Treatment and Distribution: Timothy Wells, Public Works Administrator, 395-1000.

Questions regarding plumbing regulations should be directed to: Mike Ruxton, Plumbing Inspector, 395-1881.

Questions regarding actual health effects information or physical screening should be directed to: your personal physician, pediatrician or obstetrician; or The Lake County Health Department, 360-6747.

Questions regarding sampling and analysis of your home or business water should be directed to a laboratory certified by the IEPA to perform analysis for lead. A list of laboratories certified to perform lead analysis is available from: Timothy Wells, Public Works Administrator, 395-1000.

USEPA has a toll-free Safe Drinking Water Act hotline. Questions regarding federal regulations should be referred to this number, 1-800-426-4791.

The following information is required by USEPA to be included in all public notification issued:

"The United States Environmental Protection Agency (USEPA) sets drinking water standards and has determined that lead is a health concern at certain levels of exposure. There is currently a standard of 0.050 parts per million (ppm) (this is equivalent to 50 parts per billion). Based on new health information, USEPA is likely to lower this standard significantly.

Part of the purpose of this notice is to inform you of the potential adverse health effects of lead. This is being done even though your water may not be in violation of the current standard.

USEPA and others are concerned about lead in drinking water. Too much lead in the human body can cause serious damage to the brain, kidneys, nervous system, and red blood cells. The greatest risk, even with short-term exposure, is to young children and pregnant women.

Lead levels in your drinking water are likely to be highest:

--if your home or water system has lead pipes, or

--if your home has copper pipes with lead solder, and --if the home is less than five years old, or

--if you have soft or acidic water, or

--if water sits in the pipes for several hours."

When using water which has been standing in your system for several hours or longer, be sure to flush the system as recommended above.

Kwik Pantry sells part to Shell Oil

Part of the Union 76 Kwik Pantry service station-convenience store chain headquartered in Grayslake has been sold to the Shell Oil Corp. Twenty-one of the company's almost 50 locations were sold last month, said Peter "Pete" Anest, who owns the chain with his brother, William "Bill." Headquarters are on Rte. 120 and Curran Rd. in Grayslake.

Sold were 21 Union 76 Kwik Pantry locations outside of Lake County, mostly in the Chicago area of Cook County, Anest said. The transfer took effect June 15. He said these locations constituted 10 percent of the firm's business. He added that a reported sale price of $44 million was too high, saying "I wish it were that much."

The company known as State Oil Corp. retained 25 Union 76 Kwik Pantry locations and has a number of others under construction. Lake County locations are at 24480 W. Grass Lake Rd. near Antioch, 1175 W. Rte. 134 in Round Lake, on Sheridan Rd. in Winthrop Harbor, Lake Villa at Rte. 83 and Grand Ave. and in McHenry at Bull Valley Rd. and Rte. 31. Some of the locations are leased, others are company owned.

Under construction are locations at Rte. 83 and 120 in Grayslake, on North Ave. in Antioch and in Addison. "Altogether we will add new outlets this year," Anest said.

State Oil Corp. supplies all of the locations with gasoline, oil, lubricants and petroleum products. Wholesalers supply the food, beverages and dry goods sold in the stores.

The Union 76 Kwik Pantry outlets are only a portion of the business conducted by State Oil Corp. It also supplies petroleum products and lubricants to independent service stations and locations throughout northeast Illinois, business and industry. "We still have 90 percent of our business left after selling part of our operation to Shell," Anest said.

State Oil Corp. dates to the 1930s, Anest said.

This marks the return to Shell Oil Corp. to the Chicago area in a big way after retrenching operations in the mid-1970s following the Arab oil embargo.

FOOT FACTS From The FOOT DOCTOR

Dr. Winters

Dr. Griff J. Winters & Assoc.

Specializing in Reconstructive Foot & Ankle Surgery

SIGNS OF TROUBLED FEET

If you're having a problem with your feet, you may think it's minor until the discomfort and foot fatigue get out of hand. Any limiting of activities on the job or at home can be a serious problem until your feet get the treatment they need.

There are many signs of troubled feet, and here are a few to watch for. CORNS AND CALLUSES are caused by friction and pressure that may be attributed to defects in the foot's bone structure. WARTS may be mistaken for calluses, but they are really quite different. A wart is a skin growth which has its own blood and nerve supply and tends to spread if left untreated. BUNIONS are caused by misaligned toe joints, usually the big toe, and can become swollen and tender. FUNGUS CONDITIONS, such as athlete's foot, tend to attack the feet in the warm, moist areas between the toes. TOENAIL INFECTIONS, sometimes caused by improperly trimmed nails, can also be caused by structural defects.

If you have any of these signs of troubled feet, see your foot specialist for examination and treatment.

If you have the above symptoms or any other foot discomfort, you may contact Dr. Winters for a NO COST CONSULTATION to see if there may be an answer to your foot pain.

SALES

We're looking for a friendly, outgoing person to learn to sell classified advertising for our growing group of newspapers.

Responsibility and a willingness to learn are more important than previous experience. Self-motivation and an interest in people, plus normal office skills are what it takes to become a productive sales representative.

We offer a salary plus commission, paid holidays, health insurance and profit sharing.

Sound interesting? Stop in and fill out an application. We want to fill this position in the very near future.
